

Wilson Stops Rumor Woodstock as Whole Would Pay for Water

KENNETH L. WILSON

Tax Is Levied Only on Those in New Water District,
He Declares

Woodstock, Sept. 15.—In a formal statement issued today, Supervisor Kenneth L. Wilson assured the residents of the town of Woodstock, living outside the Woodstock Water District, that only the properties within the water district will be subject to a tax for the construction of the water works system and the bonds to be issued by the district thereof. The statement follows:

"I have received a number of requests from people residing outside the Woodstock Water District, particularly in the Wittenberg, Willow, Lake Hill and Bearsville areas for information as to whether their properties will be subject to tax to pay for the cost of constructing the water works system now under construction in the Woodstock water district, and for the payment of the bonds to be issued in connection therewith. These inquiries indicate that some irresponsible person or persons have been spreading false rumors to the effect that properties outside the water district will be taxed to pay for the water district expenses."

Levied Only on District

"Let me assure all persons owning properties outside the water district that the only properties which will be subject to a tax for the building of the water system and the payment of the water district bonds will be the properties within the district. No other properties in the town can be taxed to pay any of the expenses of the water district."

"In accordance with the law which bonds of any improvement district are issued, the faith and credit of the town must be pledged in the obligation. This is a technical, legal requirement but it does not mean that a tax to pay the bonds will be levied on the entire town. Actually, the bonds are levied out of a tax to be levied solely against the properties within the district."

"The only possible circumstances under which properties outside the district could be called upon to pay any part of the cost of the water district would be in the event that all the properties within the district, at a tax sale, would not bring sufficient money to pay the district obligations. In that remote eventuality, a tax could be levied on the other properties to make up the difference."

Scout Program Is Helpful to Youth

Boys' Organization Great Asset to Nation,
Harkin Says

At a well-attended meeting in Myron J. Michael School auditorium, Wednesday night, the 1940 drive to raise money for Ulster-Greene Council, Boy Scouts of America, was given an auspicious start by speakers who praised the organization's program of character building and training the future citizens of America.

Principal speaker was Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer of the 156th Field Artillery and a director on the staff of Napanoch Institution for Male Delinquent Delinquents. In lauding the Boy Scout organization, he said, "We in the institutions of the state are trying to do what should have been done for inmates when they were in their tender years, before they ran into the unfortunate circumstances that wrecked their lives and careers."

"The time for real character building, the sort that keeps the growing generation on the right path, is during the boyhood age," the colonel stressed. "Environment has a great bearing on shaping a life. Even though parents and the church do their part in trying to direct a youngster on the right path there must be an interest for the boy such as scouting to offer a varied program which appeals to him, and offers wholesome recreation."

"It costs much less to sponsor an organization like the Boy Scouts than it does to keep men in prison for infractions of the law," he remarked. "Many behind prison bars might have been in the vanguard of the nation's progress."

State Department To Check Pollution In Drainage Area

City Laboratory to Help
Portable Station to Spend Months
in Section

Kingston will cooperate with the state in a pollution survey of the Wallkill-Rondout drainage area, it was announced today by Oscar V. Newkirk.

According to the Water Pollution Board of the New York State Department of Health, preparations for the project will start Friday, and tests are to continue over a period of several months.

Mayor Newkirk has arranged for the state engineers to use the city laboratory in the sewage treatment plant on East Strand in their tests.

Use of the lab was requested by the state because of the testing facilities available. The State Health Department will have its own portable laboratory, too, which is due here Friday on a special trailer. It will be parked near the sewage plant to facilitate its hookup with the city lab.

Actual work on the survey will begin Monday, Sept. 19, after the trailer is serviced with special power lines by the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation.

All costs, including power, are to be paid for by the state, according to Ernest O. Steuding, superintendent of the Kingston Board of Public Works, who is cooperating with state engineers in making arrangements.

In a letter of appreciation to him and Mayor Newkirk, the state board expressed the desire that they continue their helpful interest in the project.

Gwinn Makes Appeal
New York, Sept. 15 (AP)—Rep. Ralph W. Gwinn (R-N.Y.) today urged businessmen to make sure at the next election men are chosen who favor a free economy instead of a socialistic economy. He spoke before the Association of American Knit-Glove and Mitten Manufacturers, who are campaigning against underprice Japanese knit glove imports which they claim threaten to destroy the American industry.

September 30 Last Day For License Renewals

Deputy County Clerk Edgar J. Dempsey called attention today to operators of automobiles that driving licenses expire September 30, and new ones must be obtained.

Eight thousand renewals have been received to date, he said, or about one-third of outstanding permits. Dempsey admonished operators to look at their licenses to see when they expire.

Only 15 days remain before the September 30 deadline and early renewal will prevent the waiting in line which often accompanies the waning hours of the permit.

New Order Is for Probe Of Rioting

Grand Jury to Be Called in Westchester County to Determine if Reds Caused Violence

Calls it Disgrace

Protesters Were Guilty of Lawlessness, Says
Dewey

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 15 (AP)—Governor Dewey has ordered a sweeping grand jury investigation of the rioting that followed singer Paul Robeson's concert near Poughkeepsie September 4.

The Governor said last night that the violence obviously was provoked by Communist groups.

He directed that a special grand jury be called in Westchester county to determine whether the concert was "sponsored for the purpose of deliberately inciting disorder" and whether "it was part of the Communist strategy to foment racial and religious hatreds."

He also ordered that the grand jury find out whether the "Communist-led guard forces," which he said accompanied the Robeson concert-goers, were a "quasi-military force."

Dewey said that the veterans who staged a protest parade during the concert and the "large number" of other persons who came to express disapproval "fell into a Communist bear trap."

However, he asserted the protesters were guilty of lawlessness. He said the "untold incident was a shame and a disgrace."

Dewey said in a statement that "any action by anyone, whoever he is, in violation of the rights of free speech and assembly will be investigated to the full limit of the powers of the state."

He ordered that the grand jury find out whether the disorders were the result of organized planning on the part of any individual or group.

Dewey announced his action at a news conference following a four-hour meeting with George M. Fannelli, Westchester county district attorney, Fred W. Ruscoe, sheriff of the county and John A. Gaffney, superintendent of State Police.

Fannelli told reporters he would call a special grand jury as soon as he could, possibly next week.

Matthews' Group Drops Clambake; $415 to Polio Fund

Employees of F. B. Matthews & Co., wholesale grocers, of Railroad avenue, this city, have, by foregoing their annual company-sponsored clambake, donated $415 to the national emergency drive for infantile paralysis funds.

Announcement of this was made today by Stanley J. Matthews, who disclosed contents of a letter in which he enclosed the check made out to the national fund.

This action was a gratuitous one on the part of employees, who felt that unfortunately victims of poliomyelitis could be helped.

Oil Out of Shale Is New Promise of Much Gasoline

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Rifle, Colo., Sept. 15 (AP)—New cliff dwellers have returned to the Rocky Mountains—the U. S. Bureau of Mines men who have solved how to get oil cheaply out of shale.

The bureau has discovered how to assure the United States of enough gasoline for centuries by making shale oil at a cost no more than petroleum.

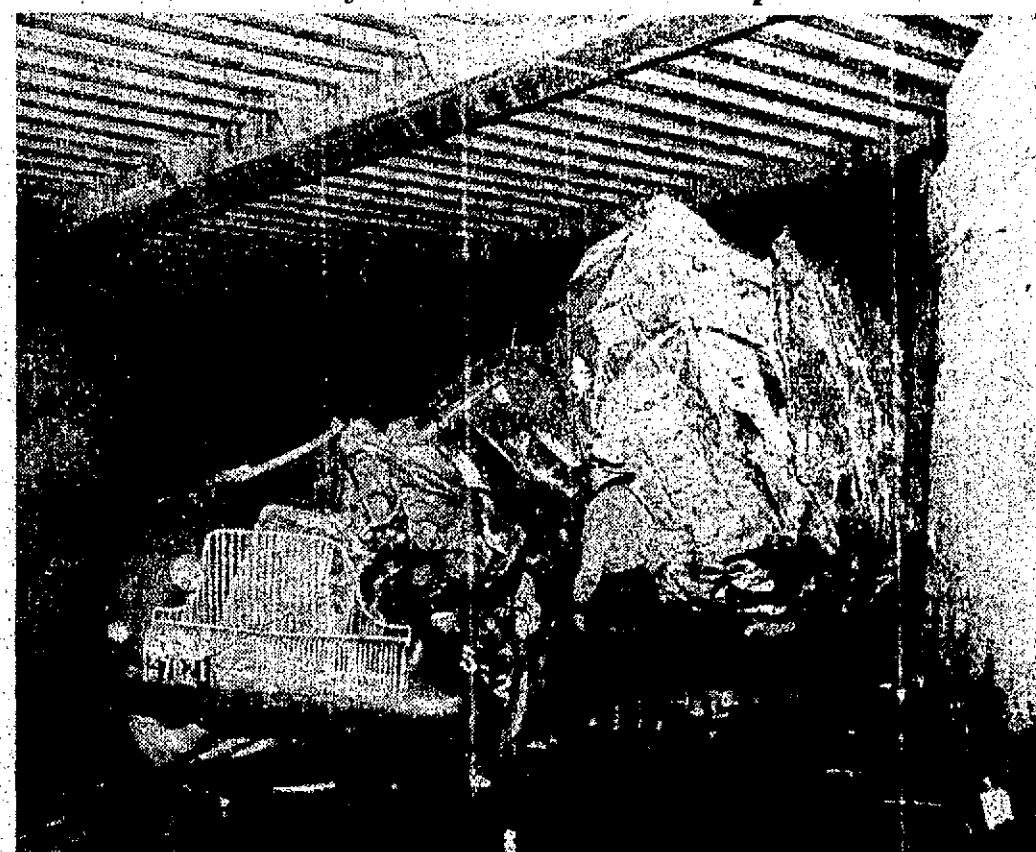

The main secret is new mining methods developed in the cliffs.

Instead of using ladders, these modern cliff men go up in bulldozers, 30-ton trucks, electric shovels, compressors that have 12 wheels slide by side and tower trucks resembling fire apparatus.

These huge machines climb a five-and-a-half mile, hairpin turn road up the side of a mountain to sheer cliffs of colored marble-stone shale at 8200 feet altitude. There they drill a corridor big as a church straight into the solid rock, and spend their careers quarrying vast rooms deep back in the rock.

Is 30th Victim

Victor C. Banzen Was Riding in Cab of Big Truck

Victor C. Banzen of 96 Cable street, Buffalo, was instantly killed at 1:15 o'clock this morning when a Brockway tractor-trailer truck loaded with cod liver oil failed to make the right angle turn at the West Shore railroad underpass at Cementon and overturned after striking the north abutment.

The driver of the vehicle, Claude Hahnwerk of 267 Liberty avenue, Jersey City, N. J., is in a serious condition at the Kingston Hospital with a possible fracture of the skull and lacerations.

James C. Whitelaw, 3908 Hudson Boulevard, Union City, N. J., was the owner of the vehicle.

According to state police from the Lake Katrine barracks the truck was being operated north and no other car was involved. The vehicle was proceeding down the grade toward the underpass when it failed to make the right angle turn at the bottom of the grade and ran over to the left of Route 9W, struck the bank and abutment and then overturned. Banzen was pinned in the cab. He became the 30th person to die in motor vehicle accidents in Ulster county this year.

Dr. Lester Sankling of Saugerties was summoned to treat the injured at the scene and Coroner Kelly, who is in this city, called. Coroner Kelly was withholding his verdict pending an autopsy to be performed today by Dr. J. Spottiswood Taylor and Dr. Sankling.

The body was taken to the Seamon Brothers funeral parlors at Saugerties. Hahnwerk was brought to the Kingston Hospital by the Layton ambulance service of Saugerties.

In overturning the big vehicle blocked traffic on Route 9W and Troopers Rasmussen, Novas and Nicodemus from Lake Katrine investigated the accident and directed traffic at the scene until the road was cleared.

There was another tractor-trailer accident on Route 9W yesterday at the junction of 9W and Jericho road which blocked traffic for four hours in the town of Bethlehem. A tractor-trailer owned by General Aniline and Film Corporation, Camden, N. J., operated by Theodore Supersak, Linden, N. J., overturned after going through the ditch, knocking over a power pole and then turning to the road where it blocked traffic. The driver escaped injury. Troopers A. S. Van Blaricum and S. H. Teeple reported.

County Receives $546,950 As Aid To Area's Schools

Comptroller Frank Moore
Announces Payment
Is First of This Year's Money

Ulster county's share in the first of this year's payments of state aid to education is $546,950, it was reported today by Frank C. Moore, state comptroller.

A check for that amount has already been sent to the county treasurer for re-distribution to fiscal officers of the individual school districts, the comptroller said.

The amount for Ulster county is a part of the $30,072,702 being distributed throughout the state to cities, villages and school districts. The money is the first payment of this year's education aid, which is based on statistics for the 1948-49 school year recently concluded.

An additional $33,478,706.61 in education aid will be apportioned in October to 31 other cities which operate, or at one time operated, on a calendar fiscal year. Cities in this vicinity which are included in this deferred group are Poughkeepsie, Beacon, Albany and New York.

The money received by Ulster county will be re-distributed in accordance with apportionment.

Minton, Indiana, Chosen As Rutledge Replacement

A&P Breakup Suit
Filed by McGrath

Case Is Follow to Earlier Criminal Conviction on Trust Law

Washington, Sept. 15 (AP)—Attorney General J. Howard McGrath today filed suit to break up the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company's nationwide food chain.

The civil action was brought in Federal District Court at New York city this morning.

It is a follow-up to a criminal conviction of the A. and P. Company under the anti-trust statutes at Danville, Illinois, three years ago.

The conviction was affirmed in the U. S. Court of Appeals at Chicago early this year and the company paid fines totaling $175,000.

The action in New York requests a court order requiring A. and P. to separate its manufacturing and processing business from its buying and selling business and to separate its present seven retail store divisions into seven independently owned retail food chains.

The Justice Department proposes to dissolve the Atlantic Commission Company, A. and P.'s wholesale purchasing and sales agent in the produce markets.

Under the proposed break-up of the present national chain into seven independent companies, A. and P. itself would not be permitted to own more than one such division, probably covering about 800 stores, in contrast to the 5,000 retail outlets it now operates.

The department pointed out, however, that the final form of the proposed dissolution would be a matter for the court to determine.

McGrath described the A. and P. system as "the largest enterprise in the food industry in the United States," with annual retail sales amounting to about $1,900,000,000 or about 6.4 per cent of the national total of retail food store sales.

"The suit," McGrath said in a statement, "is designed to eliminate the abuse by A. and P. of its mass buying and mass selling power."

The complaint alleges that the big chain has used its power and position to "impose unreasonable restraints of trade upon competitors at all levels of the food industry from farm to table."

It asserts this was done by obtaining discriminatory price preferences over retail competitors "by exercising a dual threat permanently to withhold its patronage (from suppliers) or to manufacture for itself."

Former New Dealer in Senate Now Is Federal Judge;
Age Is 58

Washington, Sept. 15 (AP)—Shyman Minton of Indiana, who battled in vain for the 1937 Roosevelt plan to put younger blood on the Supreme Court, today was chosen by President Truman to serve on that bench.

Minton, in 1937, a Democratic, pro-New Deal Senator, now is a judge of the Seventh U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals. That court has headquarters at Chicago and covers the states of Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

President Truman opened a news conference by announcing his choice of Minton to succeed the late Justice Wiley B. Rutledge on the nation's highest court.

He also announced that Judge Walter C. Lindley of the U. S. Court for the eastern district of Illinois will succeed Minton on the Appellate Court.

Casper Platteau, now a circuit judge, will succeed Lindley.

Votes Are Sought Major Test Will Be Held on G.O.P. Efforts to Limit Cutting

Washington, Sept. 15 (AP)—Republicans scrambled for votes today in a major Senate test on G.O.P. efforts to limit President Truman's tariff-cutting power under the reciprocal trade act.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) was reported flying home from Europe to cast his ballot in today's voting on amendments to the trade program (3 p. m., E.S.T.). Aides of Senator Brewster (R-Me.), also in Europe, made efforts to reach him too.

Most hotly contested of the amendments is the "anti-boycott" provision written into the trade agreement last year by the Republican-controlled 80th Congress. It requires Mr. Truman to answer to Congress if he cuts import duties to a point which the Federal Tariff Commission deems risky to American industry.

Radicals Blamed

Union College President
Says Free Speech
Is Endangered

Cazenovia, N. Y., Sept. 15 (AP)—The president of the New York State Citizens' Council says radicals and extremists are endangering free speech in the United States.

"Extremists are pushing America over a precipice," Dr. Carter Davidson, president of Union College, declared last night. He appealed for "intelligent action to foster freedom of discussion."

Davidson spoke at the opening session of the 5th annual Institute of Community Leadership at Cazenovia Junior College. The institute continues through Saturday.

He declared that "the lunatic fringe of radicals and extremists are active in seeking control" of speech.

Dog Is Victim

Rosendale, Sept. 14—"Cliff," a retriever owned by Mr. and Mrs. Gunther Newman of John street, Rosendale, returned home early Saturday morning, after an all-day absence on Friday, with porcupine quills imbedded in his nose and mouth. Futile efforts to remove the quills on the part of his owners necessitated a visit to the veterinarian where the animal was anesthetized, the quills removed and "Cliff" hospitalized for 24 hours. This is the second case of its kind within the past few months, the Geiselman's German shepherd having had a similar experience last May.

Flag Purchased

Rosendale, Sept. 4 (AP)—The Rosendale-Tilson American Legion Post held its regular meeting last Thursday evening at which time announcement was made of the purchase of a flag for the Tilson school. The date of presentation will be announced. Members of the Legion are forming a bowling team to participate in league play at the Chalet Alleys.

Hits Federal Encroachment

Saranac Inn, N. Y., Sept. 15 (AP)—The federal government "is rapidly engulfing the thrift of this country," says president of the United States Savings and Loan League. More than 30 per cent of the individual savings in the nation now are in U. S. postal savings and savings bonds. M. K. M. Murphy reported yesterday at the final convention session of the State Savings and Loan League. He said the money in postal savings and savings bonds had increased 24 per cent in less than nine years and he recommended that private savings association broaden the scope of their services in the field of thrift and home ownership.

Civil Service Group To Hold Examination

The Ulster County Civil Service Commission will hold an open competitive examination for the position of case worker in the Ulster County Welfare Department on Saturday, September 17.

Approved candidates have been notified that the examination will be held in the supervisor's room of the Ulster county court house, 285 Wall street, starting at 9:15 a. m.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Sept. 14—Wolfgang Adels, World War 2 veteran and Ashokan awnings manufacturer, has returned from a week's vacation at the World of Life Island at Schraon Lake, having made the round trip of 325 miles in the family car. Young Adels was one of several hundred persons of various sects attending the famed Lutheran camp where they were privileged to hear Jack Wrynzer, New York, and many other speakers who came to the Adirondacks religious forum.

John Clites of New York spent the week-end with his family at their summer home in the village center. Mrs. Glisas and the four children expect to remain here this week.

The James Carpenter family returned to Richmond Hill, L. I., Sunday after having been at their camp for the past three weeks.

The Shokan date for the free rabies clinic at the Reformed Church barn has been set for Wednesday evening, Sept. 21. A similar clinic for the convenience of South Olive residents (and their dogs) will be held at Odd Fellows Hall on the 20th.

The Rev. Milton H. Ryan, pastor of the three churches of the Ashokan Methodist church, resumed his preaching duties last Sunday. Dominie Ryan announced that on this Tuesday forenoon the Ashokan Church would be host to the ministers and their wives of the Kingston and Esopus sub-district of the Methodist Church.

The W.S.C.S. met at the parsonage Wednesday afternoon with Minnie E. Ryan, wife of the pastor as hostess. Also on Wednesday, in the evening, the Y.W.C.S. of the West Hurley Church met with Mrs. Paul Rowe, while the Queen Esther of the Glenford unit of the charge will gather at the home of Mrs. E. Moore.

Still another canine highway casualty took place in the village center last week, the victim being an unidentified black and tan hound which apparently had been struck by a car near the Earl El-mendorf home. The dog's moaning was heard during the night but it was not until daylight that its body was found along the Trail. Alva Buley, Sr., Olive dog warden, came and put the animal out of its misery.

Mrs. John Valland and son, Junior, returned to New York on Sunday after having been at their place on the reservoir road all summer. Mr. and Mrs. Valland are new local property owners as of last May.

Harold Buley of the Tancbe neighborhood has seasonal employment at picking apples in the Ulster Park section. Harold is known as a fast worker on wood-sawing jobs so it is not unreasonable to presume that he will do right well at picking fruit on a piece-work basis.

The riot of flower blooms across the road from Louis Thiele's home on the Trail is something to talk about. There is Marie Hausser's multi-colored display of geraniums bordering the lawn walk; Mrs. George Thost's vivid and extensive assortment of old fashioned blooms, and finally, Lou's thrifty bed of zinnias, sunflowers and castor beans, as well as clumps of black-eyed Susans which thrive from wild seeds sown in hills, so to speak. All this makes a grand showing for passersby.

Among the birthdays this week is that of Mrs. Earl Brundage, on Saturday. The former Elma Hocrnbeek was born at Sundown, Town of Denning, and came to the mountain road neighborhood with her husband some 22 years ago. A resident of the west end of the village for the past several years, Mrs. Brundage is an export needlewoman and she enjoys making things for her numerous friends. Among the Ashokan residents observing another milestone on the 17th is Lemuel J. DuBois, one time supervisor of Olive and now the Republican nominee for town tax collector. "Lem," though confined to his home by poor health, retains a keen interest in civic affairs. He is married to the former Jessie Winnie of Kingston and they have four grown children and five grandchildren.

Faces Murder Charge

Montreal, Sept. 15 (AP)—Donald Paul Watso, 24-year-old Indian from Pierreville, in Quebec's Yamashkita county, will be brought here to face a murder charge after his trial in Hempstead, N. Y., as a United States Army deserter, police said yesterday. They said Watso has been wanted on a charge of murder since June 24 when his grandfather, William Watso, died after being beaten and robbed of $27 three weeks earlier. Donald lived with his grandfather after deserting the United States Army but disappeared after the robbery, police said. Watso surrendered Monday to immigration officials at the U. S.-Canada border and was taken to Hempstead.

POLIO EMERGENCY DRIVE

Dimes invested by the American people in the March of Dimes for twelve years are yielding a dividend beyond mathematical calculation in this year of high polio incidence: expert and more abundant treatment for patients throughout the nation.

More physicians are alert to polio symptoms, experienced in diagnosis and care. More nurses and physical therapists are trained to apply latest treatment methods and techniques. Virologists, orthopedists, pediatricians—terms once little known beyond medical circles—are becoming familiar household words, as parents realize the role they play in specialized polio research and treatment.

Development of the existing army of professional polio fighters is a result of careful planning and financing by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. It was stated today by Miss Catherine Worthington, director of professional education for that organization. Since 1938 more than $10,000,000 of March of Dimes funds has gone into a comprehensive educational program to help train experts, she said.

Two new services to insure better patient care were instituted by the National Foundation this year. One was the establishment of epidemic orientation centers, where recruited nurses inexperienced in polio work receive intensive training in the basic principles of polio nursing before accepting emergency duty. The first such center in Little Rock, Ark., is also available to local graduate and student nurses in that hard-hit state.

The other service is the recruitment of resident physicians, urgently needed for hospitals where polio cases are concentrated in a patient load too large for staff physicians to handle. The National Foundation has sponsored special short polio training courses for resident orthopedic and pediatric residents who may be called to duty in epidemic areas as needed. Fifty such residents already have been made available to epidemic areas.

In addition, short courses for physicians, nurses and physical therapists, in polio diagnosis and treatment, and the services of four Polio Aid Units which go into stricken areas upon requests of state or city health officers to help organize care, have been made available through the National Foundation.

Contributions from the American people have paid for the protective benefits and services of many trained medical experts providing care for today's polio victims. The large number of patients whose treatment will reach into 1950 and beyond requires the training of more experts to meet the continuing need. That is why, reckoning costs in terms of human lives, support for the Polio Epidemic Emergency Drive is needed.

Send your contribution today to Polio, care of your local post office.

WOOL PRODUCTION

Industry in Australia is not doing very well, owing to a labor unrest and a shortage of raw materials, but the people Down Under rejoice in their large wool production. The rural landscape is dotted with sheep, to the number of one hundred million. In the past two years, 37 per cent of Australia's export income was derived from wool, which also provided a large part of the country's dollar income.

FALL GARDENS

The "bright blue weather" of September and October, with just enough snap in the air to give zest to active work, means to the gardener not only a harvest of late blooms but a job of tidying up and preparations for next spring's planting.

Annuals, which have begun to show withered leaves and a tired look, must be pulled out, and their places worked over and fertilized. Window-boxes are emptied of their bright flowers, painted and stored. And the careful gardener looks now to his tools, oiling them and putting them where

'These Days'

THE FOURTH HOUSE

The Constitution provides for two Houses of Congress to legislate for the United States, the Senate and the House of Representatives. These Houses exist to lay down the policy of the country and to enact that policy into law. Some members of the Supreme Court of the United States, at various times, have translated that judicial body into a legislative chamber which modifies and changes the laws that Congress passed into something quite different, in accordance with judicial dicta.

Now, along comes something wholly new and outside our constitutional system of government. The President appoints a three-man board in a labor case. He appoints that board to evade the use of legal machinery because that would be a recognition of the Taft-Hartley Act which he opposes politically. That evasion is wrong, because the President of the United States should have no opinion in the execution of laws passed by Congress. The Constitution provides no such option.

In a word, the first issue in this case is law or anarchy, the prevalence of law or the pursuit of whim.

This three-man board then sets a pattern which is:

1. Collective bargaining is to be industry-wide and not based upon the plant or the company. Collective bargaining is made as remote from the worker as possible. It is to become a function of statesmanship, unaffected by the interests either of the immediate workers or management.

2. This means that collective bargaining really disappears and the Fascistic process of government control of wages, hours, working conditions, pensions, health arrangements, prices, quotas of production, types of production become fixed by state fiat. It is a return, without an act of Congress, to the N.R.A. which the Supreme Court declared to be unconstitutional.

3. It establishes a national pension system, on top of a legal Social Security Act, the terms of the national pension system being determined neither by the labor unions nor management, nor by an act of Congress, but by the fiat of a politically irresponsible board of three which lays down a pattern as an act of personal opinion. In this particular instance, such pension systems already exist, but they are the product of collective bargaining and involve contributions by both the company and the beneficiary. The three-man board arranges for a non-contributory pension system.

4. No one can calculate the cost of this system to the United States in higher prices, reduced federal revenue, in bankruptcies or in the stabilizing of industries so that new and small enterprises cannot step in and risk their capital or that of their associates in competition with larger and long-established businesses. It will therefore limit or even end competition and establish, by government action, monopolies. These industrial monopolies will be joined together in associations to industry-wide agreements effective, and such associations will negotiate with monopolies of labor recognized and controlled by an outside agency of government appointed by the President.

5. The entire program is a step in the socialization of industrial income under government agencies appointed by the President. Fabian Socialism, which is falling miserably in Great Britain, is thus brought to the United States.

6. It is a characteristic of the unconstitutional quest between the President and Congress that he seeks to establish the points of his "Fair Deal" program, which Congress rejects, by means which are intolerable under our system of law. Therefore, the procedure is unsound for labor as it is for management, for the farmer as it is for the owner of capital, because once the law collapses, government becomes the instrument of the fiat of an individual or of those who advise and manipulate that individual.

For years, a small group have advocated such a process. They tried it in N.R.A. and failed. They have been at it since, but have never succeeded. Maybe this time they will succeed because Harry Truman dislikes Congress. Skillfully, utilizing every opportunity, this group of men, some of them now organized in the A.D.A. (American for Democratic Action), keep plugging away at their socialistic program. Although Harry Truman naturally abhors socialism, he would laugh it out of existence, his antipathy to Congress forces him into the hands of these manipulators. That Body of Yours

POLIO CAN BE CONQUERED

It is toward the end of August and early in September that most cases and epidemics of poliomyelitis—infantile paralysis—occur. It is because of the gripping this disease causes in some cases that patients are relieved when the epidemic, mild or severe, passes over.

Despite the fact that we still have severe epidemics of infantile paralysis some encouraging facts have been published by the Public Affairs Committee, Inc., in Public Affairs Pamphlet No. 450, entitled "Polio Can Be Conquered" written by Alton L. Winkles.

The pamphlet points out that many people think infantile paralysis always cripples the person it attacks. Far from it. Each year thousands of people may have it in such mild form that they never recognize it. "The disease seems rarely to hit anyone so severely that he becomes paralyzed. Even when paralysis does happen, it doesn't mean that he will be left crippled or handicapped."

Forty to 60 per cent of the children or adults who are attacked by poliomyelitis can be completely recovered without any evidence of paralysis. Another 25 to 30 per cent will recover with only a mild degree of paralysis. There will be so little left of the paralysis symptoms that they can carry on ordinary activities and live pretty much as they had planned to.

"Only 15 to 25 per cent will be left more or less severely handicapped—unable to use some muscles. But rehabilitation and special devices can do wonders with them."

The pamphlet illustrates the six early symptoms and signs by which polio may be recognized. They are illustrations of children suffering with seven different symptoms: headache, sore throat, nausea, slight fever, fatigue or tiredness, listlessness, pain or stiffness in muscles.

I believe it would be a good investment for parents and teachers to send twenty cents (20c) to Public Affairs Committee, Inc., 22 East 38th street, New York 16, N. Y., and ask for booklet "Polio Can Be Conquered."

They will come easily to hand in March or April. There is planting or transplanting of peonies and spring-blooming bulbs, and lawns need weeding, seeding and fertilization.

The philosopher-gardener is pleased with the autumn ritual of tasks. Another year of bloom and beauty is ending in the garden, and after winter's rest and abatement, spring's gentle impetus will work its yearly miracle of bloom and greenery.

The Return of the Prodigal

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—For the first time since Franklin Roosevelt appointed the majority on the Supreme Court, you can write it down that the "nine old men" will now rule against F.D.R.'s general political philosophy.

This turn to the right will be apparent shortly after Court convenes in October, and would have taken place even had not Justice Wiley Rutledge passed away last week. It will be emphasized all the more, however, with his death.

There will now be three different and distinct groups on the Supreme Court, with generally divergent points of view on most subjects.

Group No. 1—The militant liberals have now been reduced to only two men—Justices Hugo Black and William O. Douglas. Up until Frank Murphy's death, they controlled the court because they could usually persuade Stanley Reed or one other justice to go along with them. Now a definite minority, Black and Douglas, will still have a powerful impact on the nation, will probably become like Holmes and Brandeis in their ringing, historic dissents. But their influence over the court majority will be no more.

Group No. 2—The conservatives are represented by Felix Frankfurter and Bob Jackson. Jackson, more astute than Frankfurter, is the dominant of the two. Both men were appointed by Roosevelt as liberals; both have drifted well over to the right, and both are in opposition to most of F.D.R.'s social and economic views.

Middle-of-the-Roaders
 Group No. 3—The middle-of-the-roads are led by Chief Justice Fred Vinson, who for the first time, since the death of Murphy and Rutledge, will now control the majority of the court. With the chief justice will line up popular Stanley Reed, also from Kentucky. A tiffle lazy, easy to sway, and worried about increased government controls and so-called "statism," Reed has been gradually veering away from the liberals.

Also voting with the chief justice most of the time will be hard-working ex-Attorney General Tom Clark, who partly owes his Supreme Court appointment to his old friend Vinson. For it was Vinson who tipped the balance in favor of Clark when the President's mind was undecided. Clark will be more liberal than Vinson in many cases, but most of the time he will stay with his old friend.

Though a Republican, Justice Harold Burton also lines up rather consistently with the chief justice. Burton feels a great loyalty to President Truman, who appointed him, and with whom he once served in the Senate. Furthermore, a plodding lawyer who has to struggle to turn out even three or four opinions a year, is forced by necessity to hang on somebody's coat-tails. And the chief justice's tails are both the most respectable and the most convenient.

There was a time when Bill Douglas seriously considered resigning from the Supreme Court. Still a young man, the confining drudgery of the court bored him.

With the death of Rutledge and Murphy, however, he will probably not resign—first because he will not desert his old friend Hugo Black, and second because he will not desert the Liberal cause.

Also Douglas gets a kick out of baiting his opposite number, Felix Frankfurter. The only member of the Supreme Court who successfully and consistently gets under Frankfurter's skin, Douglas almost makes him frantic.

A Scotsman of few words, Douglas will sit listening attentively to a long and involved legal explication by the ex-Harvard professor. Then suddenly, just as Frankfurter reaches his climax, Douglas will intervene with: "Now you don't really mean so-and-so, do you, Felix?"

Those who sit in on Supreme Court conferences say Frankfurter is much more likely to resign than any other member of the court, the chief reasons being the needling of Bill Douglas and the lack of young people's company in Washington. At Harvard, Frankfurter was constantly surrounded by adoring youngsters, but in Washington they don't come around to see him anymore.

Frankfurter fancies himself quite a political trader, and used to concentrate on winning over Stanley Reed, sometimes called "the swing man" of the court.

One morning, as law clerks and justices went to work, Frankfurter, his office door wide open, could be heard pleading on the phone.

"Now, Stanley," he said, obviously talking to Justice Reed. "You know I don't want to influence you, but don't you let those so-and-so's take you in."

The so-called so and so's were, of course, the court liberals, who several times did bend over backward to win the vote of Justice Reed. In the Associated Press case, for instance, the liberals needed one more vote and instructed their law clerks to study all of Reed's past opinions in order to insert some of his pet phraseology in their final opinion.

After an exhaustive search, one of Reed's pet legal theories was dug up and woven into the AP opinion. Reading it, Justice Reed beamed. "If this stays in," he said, "I'll go along with you."

Chief Justice's New Role
 Fred Vinson, a great human being, hasn't surprised those who know him well by his drift to the right. The chief justice's background and social surroundings always have been a little right-of-center. Under Roosevelt he was a faithful follower of the Deal left-of-center philosophy, but now he is traveling on his own.

What has surprised some of his Supreme Court colleagues, however, has been Vinson's formality. Chief Justice Stone ruled the court with an easygoing informality under which the most insignificant law clerk could drop in to see him at any time.

But under Fred Vinson, associates justices have found not only that they have to make appointments in advance, but are asked to tell Vinson's secretary what they want to see the chief justice about. As a result, certain justices do not call on Vinson any more.

Bonn Government Office
 Bonn, Germany (AP)—Some officials of the new German Federal Republic will have stuffed lions, prehistoric mammoths and rare butterflies as neighbors. They'll all be together in the Alexander Koenig museum in this first capital city of Western Germany. Bonn, battered Bonn is woefully short of office space. New buildings are blossoming amid the war ruins. But it will be years before enough space is available to house all the ministries of the infant republic, if they stay here permanently. So one ministry probably will settle in the museum. It will have one wing—and the relics of the past will have what's left.

Industry Is Told It Might Lose Control of Pension, Welfare Funds

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 15—Plenty of implications of national policy are to be found in the recommendations made by the President's fact-finding board, which has just issued its report on the steel industry. For one thing: industry as a whole has been put on notice that, unless it gets back to some nationwide plan for pensions of more substantial amounts than are available today, labor unions will demand and probably get control of more and more such welfare funds. The report says significantly on this point:

"So long as government does not provide the security at all, we believe that industry should. So long as government fails to provide an adequate amount, industry should take up the slack."

"It is inevitable that the thousands of private insurance and pension funds now in existence should multiply in number and amount. It should be cause of great concern that, as a result of the growing search for security, there is growing up haphazardly all over the country this large number of unequal and uncoordinated insurance funds with little or no public control."

"No thoughtful citizen, interested in the human resources of our nation, can expect labor to wait patiently by until government makes up its mind. Workers are entitled to security in the meantime."

"If government should finally decide to provide adequate security through a nationwide compulsory plan, changes in private plans could be made."

The foregoing illustrates the complexity of the whole pension problem. What kind of a system should be imposed by companies? Should it be entirely at company expense? If so, the President's board recommends, this is done, then obviously the huge amount of expense involved will mean relatively small benefits for each employee, whereas a plan in which the employee supplements the company's contribution would be better for all concerned and in the end give the employees larger benefits at retirement.

It is unfortunate that a second or top layer comprising employee contributions was not suggested by the President's board, because it would have clarified the situation.

The subject is so intricate that it is naturally difficult for the companies to say now that they will accept 100 per cent all the suggestions made by the President's board. There are so many other factors of expense involved that it will take considerable time and study to come up with a plan satisfactory to both sides.

This is why C.I.O. President Murray is asking just a little too much when he demanded an acceptance in a legal sense of the recommendations of the President's board, as something to be incorporated in the forthcoming collective-bargaining contract.

The steel companies quite properly insist that the President's board make a report which states how to be in principle and not in detail. On this very point the board's report says:

"These recommendations should cover the framework, rather than the details, of a settlement, which should be left to the parties for negotiation."

The exchange of telegrams between Mr. Murray of the C.I.O. and Mr. Fairless of U. S. Steel Corporation shows that when the company indicated its willingness to resume collective bargaining, the C.I.O. executive wanted a written assurance first that the recommendations had been accepted. The steel corporation undoubtedly wanted to reserve for itself decision on acceptance or rejection when the collective-bargaining negotiations had progressed sufficiently to determine whether such a decision was required.

The "recommendations" of the President's board, as used as a "basis" for the negotiations.

When both sides fully understand that collective bargaining permits any issues, new or old, to be raised, they will enter the negotiations without entangling themselves in the legal niceties of an agreement that was never signed. They will be in a position to advance on either side of the board's report is to have a moral rather than a legal influence on the negotiations, it is important that legal technicalities should not be permitted to arise before the collective-bargaining negotiations themselves are begun.

The application of the law appears to be not too consequential. (Reproductions Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Sept. 14—The saying that in union there is strength is as false as it is true. Its effect on the trivial reflections of the American worker, which are called his "thinking," has been very bad for him and the rest of the nation.

Obviously a union with a million subjects is a mighty organization. Even the rank and file with their undeveloped native intelligence can sense the painful fact that the stronger the union is, the weaker is the individual member. Still, they continue to believe, in a dull way, that when the great strength of the union is put against some employers, it is they, the workers, who are strong in their unity.

That is not the case at all. When Philip Murray, for the steel workers of the C.I.O., stands up against steel, demanding outright gifts of money from the stockholders to his subjects in various socialist guises, the union, not the worker, is speaking. Murray thinks up the demands. He is political, not humane, motives. Let the individual worker try to oppose him and he learns that he is a bug under the heel of the same brutal giant. If he were capable of intelligent thought, he would analyze his own situation and realize that he is a tiny, impersonal cell contributing to the whole huge force ruled by remote beings.

How did he come to be a member in the first place? He may have joined voluntarily, or an intelligent decision, although few of those who did join voluntarily were capable of the thought which an intelligent decision would require. But he knew that if he decided not to join, the power of the union would crush him. Moreover, throughout the career of the United States Workers' Educational National Government of the United States has been right behind the union, helping it to oppress the insect contemptuously known as the common man as well as the common stockholder.

It will be one of the marvels of this monstrous Roosevelt-Truman era that the common man, ever deliberately degraded by Roosevelt into a status little higher than serfdom under the unions, that he dully knew this to be true and that he nevertheless regarded Roosevelt as a holy savior. Deification of Roosevelt should not blind the intelligent man to the fact that he is now a pagan god to many native voters, or married to them as Hitler is to the unconstructed Nazi. His widow, that shrewd and artful priestess of the cult, recently had the confident offhandedness to refer to some Josephine on the Warm Spring reservation as "my wife." She knows what a shrine is and she chose it.

Questions—Answers

Q—What is the main function of the International Red Cross formulated under the Treaty of Geneva?

A—The main purpose of the body is the care and treatment of the wounded and ill and prisoners of war. It also provides, along with national Red Cross societies, a system of communication between free civilians living in countries at war with each other.

Q—What type of English is slated to become the most common in the United States?

A—According to a study made by Prof. John Webster Spargo of the English Department of Northwestern University, English as it is spoken in the middle west is gaining wider influence and may well replace such regional accents as the southern drawl.

Q—When was the first pension act promulgated?

A—It was passed by the Plymouth Pilgrims who enacted a regulation in 1639 that whoever should set forth as a soldier and return maimed should be maintained by the colony for the rest of his life.

Q—Who were the Pot-walloppers?

A—This is an expression used in England before the Reform Act of 1832, to denote those persons that proved themselves housekeepers, and hence electors, by bolting their pots over their own fireplaces.

Q—Do women in the U. S. Air Force have a regular status?

A—Yes. They have no official title but are called "airmen" like the men, and unofficially, W.A.F.s.

RELEASED BY RUSSIANS IN GERMANY

Major Victor Milner, Jr. (right), and his father, a movie cameraman, stop at a check point near Berlin after being released Sept. 13 by the Russians. They had been under attack in the Soviet zone of Germany since Sept. 10 according to an announcement from the U. S. check point at Coburg. Major Milner, an aide to Maj. Gen. J. P. Hodges of the U. S. Military Government, and his father were on a motor trip to Berlin when they were arrested by the Russians. (AP Wirephoto by radio from Berlin)

As Pegler Sees It

this word carefully for a test of popular reaction. Undoubtedly it went over so, inevitably, she and the cult will press more boldly the proposition that her husband was a holy mahatma. The idea that his spirit might be displeased and visit some wrath upon a people who should disobey his divine counsel as communicated by her to the voters may not be rejected out of hand.

But, whether he was wheedled or coerced by goons, the common man did not seek unionism. It went after him.

A moral man may not acquiesce in an immoral decision of act by his union. The immoral act may be a deliberately false statement to misrepresent certain facts and injure an innocent victim. It may be extortion of money from employers in the guise of a vacation fund for the employees with the knowledge of all concerned that the money is to be spent on "political action." We know that money hoisted into political campaigns inevitably corrupts the elections and government. But Congress overlooked unions. They then seemed virtuous because they were feeble. So now they are permitted to debauch the ballot. Their power to tax the employers for this nefarious purpose is literally unlimited by law. Obviously this is a clever scheme hatched by the union bosses to elect presidents and lesser officials who will collaborate with them as Roosevelt did. Obviously all this is detrimental to the morals and citizenship of the union workers and the rest of the people. But the union member cannot oppose it. You may say that in theory, he can. But in practice the power of the union bosses increases with time. The members are voiceless and listless.

It is no mere fable of union bosses that makes them demand the checkoff of dues and assessments and the close shop. John L. Lewis is so strong that he can disdain the transparent pretenses of the Phil Murphys and the William Greens. He admits that the common man is neither steadfast to unionism nor highly intelligent. Therefore he imposes the closed shop and the checkoff. The checkoff spaces him the expense and trouble of chasing delinquents and the loss of revenue that he would suffer with a regular roll of backsliders. He knew the miners did not want the checkoff so he took the decision out of their hands. He decided in their name that they did. He had their measure and he knew his own strength and their weakness.

Until that time and for a long time thereafter, no New Dealer dared suggest that the government should have the power to help itself to a portion of the citizen's earnings, not even permitting him to touch it. Emboldened by the efficiency and success of Lewis and the unionism of the Roosevelt regime made its first pass in the social security law. The swipe here was called an income tax. Later the withholding tax came. Now social medicine threatens to take as much as eight per cent so that, with union dues and other exactions, the faceless man probably will have away at least ten per cent of his earnings. Under this rule there is no reason in principle why the unions and the government can't take it all, and take the worker under a protective, communal administration of his needs. Security is the watchword of the hour and a valuable pig or steer enjoys the highest security and finest care.

The vast hordes of the unions today represent a capture of subjects, not persuasion to unionism. Riots, raids and other criminal violence broke the resistance of millions of citizens. Many of them have tried to put a good face on their involuntary, helpless condition but the fact remains that in union we now observe man at his weakest since the abolition of slavery. Low prices happen Every Day at THRIFTY PENNEY'S

You don't have to be an expert to pick a good suit off Penney racks!

THERE'S NO MAGIC INVOLVED. WE SIMPLY SET ONE HIGH QUALITY LEVEL AND EVERY SUIT MUST MEASURE UP TO IT!

Penney's is more strict than a country school "marm" when it comes to quality of fabric. Every suit bearing a Penney label is 100% virgin wool worsted (the long wearing, hard finished kind).

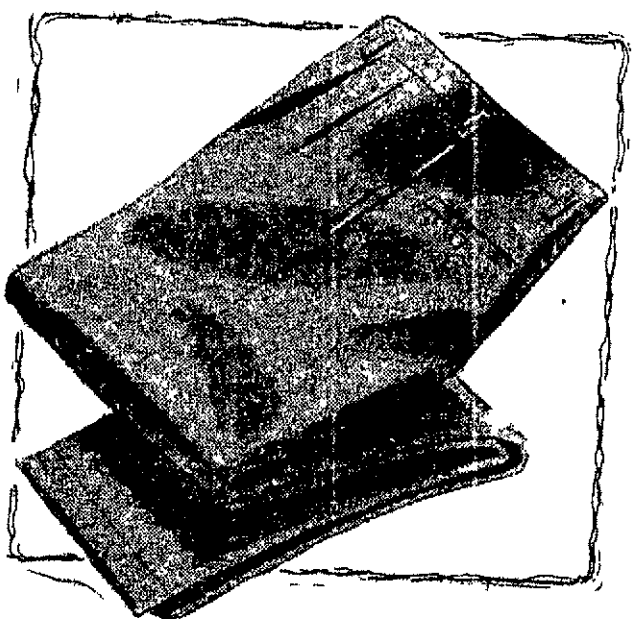

And every suit is cut over our own generously full, exactly sized patterns. Penney suits are comfortable, follow the easy natural lines of a man's figure.

Only an expert can know for sure how solidly built a suit is on the inside. But in every Penney suit those important inside details (interlinings, hand basting and facings) are performed with the greatest skill. You can close your eyes and choose a good Penney suit every time.

Penney's has a big selection of all-new 100% virgin wool worsteds; sharkskins, gabardines and stripes. There's a wide range of sizes and models in this season's smartest colors. Now, there's all the proof you want waiting at Penney's that, "You don't have to be an expert to pick a good suit off Penney racks."

New Order . . .

make a complete unlimited and exhaustive grand jury investigation of all the incidents which occurred."

In New York, a Communist spokesman said last night:

"It's clear that Dewey plans more than a whitewash. He now plans to pin the responsibility for the storm troop action at Peekskill not on the hoodlums, but on the victims."

Brought 2,500 Men

In his 1,100-word statement, Dewey said the "pro-Communist forces brought with them some 2,500 men whom they called security guards."

"This force of 'guards' was military in character, operation and formation and discipline. They were equipped with weapons, including baseball bats, can openers, stones and cans of black and red pepper. Such weapons in the hands of an organized group could become formidable and even deadly."

In directing that the grand jury determine whether the guards were a "quasi-military force," Dewey asserted:

"Storm troops or private militia, whether in white sheets, brown shirts or military clothing, will not be tolerated in New York. We have abolished the Bund and the Ku Klux Klan and we will not permit similar Communist organizations to exist."

Unofficial reports placed the number of persons injured in the riot at more than 100. Faneili and Ruscoe, in written reports to Dewey last week, set the figure at 70.

Most of them were injured when stones were thrown at vehicles carrying concert-goers out of the Peekskill area. Bus windows were smashed and several automobiles were overturned.

Both Faneili and Ruscoe blamed teen-agers for the violence.

Dewey also ordered Faneili to complete an investigation of the violence that prevented a Robeson concert Aug. 27 at another spot near Peekskill. At least eight persons were injured in a three-hour rioting riot between concert-goers and volunteers protesting Communism.

Robeson was intercepted by friends and never reached the concert.

Asked whether he would call Robeson before the grand jury, Faneili replied that he could not say.

"Rest assured," he told newsmen, "I will call everyone who can throw any light on this situation."

Robeson, negro baritone, charged after the September 4 affair that police had attacked concert-goers.

Two spokesmen for volunteers said they would welcome the probe.

Vincent Boyle, head of the Associated Veterans Committee, which sponsored anti-Communist parades, said "there is no doubt that the Robeson supporters came to incite violence. We will cooperate with the investigation 100 per cent."

Robert Avari, Westchester

county commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said:

"I believe the grand jury will definitely pick out the fundamental and underlying cause of the disorders. These were provoked by hired goons sent in by the Communists."

In his statement, Dewey asserted that any violation of the rights of free speech and assembly "must be scorned and repudiated even though the incidents were deliberately provoked."

The Communist groups obviously did provoke this incident," he said.

"For a week prior to the meeting on September 4, they and their associates made the most inflammatory public utterances and threats as to the size of the crowd they were going to bring into this county community and the nature of the protection forces they would bring with them."

The threats were carried out. Some 15,000 people were brought into a small rural community in the Town of Cortlandt, which has a total police force of one town constable.

"In addition, the pro Communist forces brought with them some 2,500 whom they called 'security guards'."

Dewey said the gathering "attracted not only the veterans who paraded during the meeting but a large number of other men, women and young people who came to see, to express their disapproval of the Communist meeting and many to cause trouble."

"Obviously," Dewey added, "these people fell into a Communist trap. By creating disorder after the meeting, they gave to the Communists effective propaganda which has been used all over the United States, in Europe, South America and Africa."

About 900 local and State Police were mobilized for the September 4 concert.

Dewey said the police "used every reasonable method to preserve peace and order . . . and to preserve the rights of free speech and assembly."

They were successful at this despite very great difficulties and despite the fact that eleven of their members were injured," he said.

Cool Snap Ends

Chicago, Sept. 15 (AP)—A batch of warm air from the southwest headed into the Midwest today, ending a mid-September cool snap in many areas. Temperatures in the 70's and 80's were forecast for some parts of the Rocky Mountain and plains states today.

Mayone Brick Co. Files Bankruptcy

Mayone Brick Company, Inc., Athens, has filed a voluntary proceeding in bankruptcy, in the Southern District of New York. Liabilities are listed as $392,286 and assets $226,234. Settlement of claims in full in deferred payments is proposed. The yard was purchased about a year ago and operated by Ernest Jochen of New York City.

On August 31 the employees numbering 70 were laid off. Members of Bricklayers Local No. 1467 claim they were not paid at that time. The company has asked permission to continue the business. The company, the petition states, has been in business since 1916.

served well with the money the party and clamor would represent," Matthews said. "The company was only too happy to follow this lead."

The letter to Raymond Garaghan, treasurer of the Ulster County police chapter, follows:

Sept. 15, 1949

Mr. Raymond Garaghan
30 Kierstead Avenue
Kingston, New York

Dear Ray:

It has been the custom of our employees for a number of years in the past to have an annual get-together and clamor.

At a meeting of our employees the other day, it was decided to forego the clamor and to forward the money to the police fund.

We are, therefore, enclosing our check in the amount of $415, which represents the usual clamor expenditure, and this, with the wish on the part of our employees, to have some small part in combating this dread disease.

Sincerely,
STANLEY J. MATTHEWS,

G.O.P. to Organize

The Ulster County Republican Committee will hold its organization meeting at the county court house on Thursday, September 22, at 8 p. m. At that time a county chairman, vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer will be elected. Other routine business will be transacted.

Minton Chosen . . .

judge of Illinois, will succeed Lind-

Now 58, Minton is a Democrat and a Protestant, but his wife is Catholic.

There had been speculation before that Mr. Truman might choose a Catholic for the high court. The death of Justice Frank Murphy in July removed the only member of that faith from the court.

Mr. Truman appointed Attorney General Tom Clark, a Protestant, to succeed Murphy.

Minton, a lawyer of New Albany, Ind., was elected to the Senate in 1934. His Senate desk was next to that of then Senator Harry Truman of Missouri and the two became close friends.

As a senator, Minton was an ardent "New Dealer" and a vigorous fighter for the Roosevelt administration's measures.

He fought hard for President Roosevelt's plan to add new justices to the Supreme Court to the number of those over age 70 who did not retire.

As the age of the justices then stood, the plan would have enlarged the court from nine to 15 members.

The court of that time had declared unconstitutional a major legislation which the president backed as essential to the country.

With the shifting of political tides, Minton was defeated for reelection to the Senate in 1940 by Raymond E. Willis, Republican.

Minton went back to Indiana, but President Roosevelt quickly called him back to Washington and named him as one of his administrative assistants. On May 7, 1941, President Roosevelt appointed him to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Born in Indiana

Minton was born in Georgetown, Ind., but his family moved to New Albany when he was a small boy.

He was educated at Indiana University where he was a football and baseball player. He received his law degree from Indiana in 1915 and followed it with a year of graduate work in law at Yale.

Minton had hardly settled into law practice in New Albany when the First World War began. He went into the army and served as an infantry captain. He was a staff officer under General Pershing.

His rise in Indiana politics coincided with the governorship of Paul V. McNutt, who later became federal security commissioner, war manpower commissioner, high commissioner and then ambassador to the Philippines.

Minton was public counselor of the Indiana Public Service Commission when he was elected to the Senate.

His strong "New Dealer" views as a senator surprised some of his Indiana friends, particularly since as a lawyer he had had many large corporation accounts.

Minton was active on the Senate's lobby investigating committee. Once a crate of celery was sent from Florida to each senator who voted against a proposal to construct a canal across the state.

Minton got one. He sent it back. In 1938, Minton received wide publicity when he introduced legislation proposing to make it a felony to publish a "known untruth" about anyone. It drew him into heated exchanges with Col. Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune and other publishers.

The proposal never got anywhere in Congress.

Minton was married in 1917 to Miss Gertrude Curtz. They have three children.

The Senate must confirm the choice of Minton for the high court, but confirmation of a former senator is usually little more than a formality, quickly done.

Senate Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill.) predicted an "outstanding career" for Minton as an associate justice. He said he was "very happy" to hear of his promotion to the court.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind.)

said: "I was in hopes the President would appoint a Republican to the Supreme Court bench as a means of retaining a true balance of bi-partisanship in the judicial branch of your government. However, since he did not choose to appoint a Republican I am delighted that the appointment went to a Hoosier, Judge Minton."

Good Neighbor Policy!
Our nice young neighbors think we're sweet.
And I do not mean maybe.
We act as though it were a treat
To watch them bathe the baby.

Her Father—My boy, you are the same age?

Surveys all over North America show that more and more people

Too often the people who bore

Stainback Offers Hawaiian Formula

Honolulu, Sept. 15 (AP)—Hawaii's governor offered a new peace proposal into the islands' tangled 138-day C.I.O. dock strike today. His formula: Boost wages 14 cents an hour, resume work, set up a new contract.

Gov. Ingram M. Stainback first put the proposal to the striking International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union. Then he laid it out for Hawaii's seven struck stevedoring firms. Both sides said they will consider it.

A basic wage of $1.54 an hour was the governor's suggestion. This is the same pay recommended by his fact finding board in June. The employers accepted it. Then the union rejected it.

The I.L.W.U.'s 2,000 stevedores struck May 1. They wanted to hike their $1.40 an hour to $1.72. Their figure has been scaled down since, but novel on terms the employers would accept.

Now the governor urges. Take 14 cents. Make the docks hum again as quickly as possible. Then sit down at a bargaining table with the employers right away. There negotiate a new two-year contract and make it effective next April 1.

The first of 10 freighters scheduled to arrive in Hawaii in the next 10 days started loading pineapple and general cargo at Honolulu yesterday. The Isthmian line's Meredith Victory is being worked by government stevedores.

Nine more ships are due in from the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and the Orient with general cargo. They are scheduled to take sugar and pineapple to east and west coast ports. All these ships are operated by the Isthmian and Waterman lines.

Saar Wants Anthem
Saarbrücken, Germany (AP)—Several months ago the Ministry of Culture of the Saar, now economically merged with France, invited proposals for a national anthem. Now the ministry found that none of the 537 drafts submitted were good. It urgently requested the poet, Johannes Kicheweg, to write one.

Dr. William M. Bomar, Glenwood, Conn., school teacher, examines the bus ticket she was using to return there, Sept. 13, after offering herself to the University of Illinois as an experimental patient for the beta-tron cancer treatment. Bids Advertised For B'way Crossing Contractors' bids on the Broadway railroad crossing elimination are now being sought by the State Department of Public Works, and detailed maps, plans and specifications are obtainable by contractors who make the required deposit.

Sealed proposals will be accepted by the state until 10:30 a. m., October 5. Proposals should be filed with Henry A. Cohen, director of the Bureau of Contracts and Accounts at the Alfred E. Smith state office building in Albany.

The Department of Public Works estimates the project will cost $991,000, according to a notice to contractors published by B. D. Talamy, state public works superintendent.

Maps, plans, specifications and estimates may be obtained at the office of the Department of Public Works, Bureau of Contracts and Accounts, Albany, or at the office of the district engineer, J. S. Bixby, Pleasant Valley road, Poughkeepsie. They may be seen at the office of the Department of Public Works at 270 Broadway, New York City.

Deposit for the plans is $10, which will be refunded to bidders who return the set of plans in good condition within 30 days of the award or rejection of bids. All bids submitted must be accompanied with a deposit of $54.

The contract to be let calls for the building of an overpass structure for the railroad, a bridge to join Greenkill and Railroad avenues, digging of the Broadway underpass and the construction of a concrete pavement of eight-inch cement, 30 feet wide and .19 mile long.

Meanwhile, demolition work by Frank Hoffman of Pleasant Valley, contractor, is continuing and is scheduled for completion by December 31. Hoffman's contract calls for the razing of 18 buildings.

'Hack' Writer Slapped

Moscow (AP)—Writer I. Vsevolodsky has been severely criticized in "Komsomol Pravda" for a book described as "rubbish." "How could it happen," asked the critic, "that such a harmful book, such base hackwork which has obviously been written on the model of foreign boulevard literature could be published here in the Soviet Union, where the most progressive literature and highly ideological has been created, where the rank of author has been raised to unprecedented heights?"

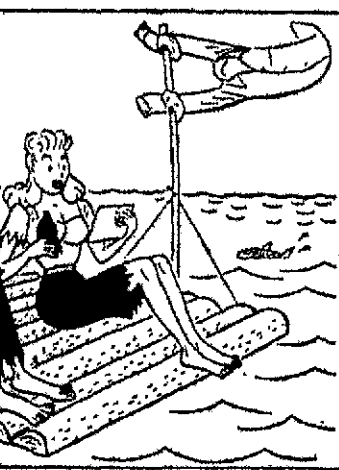

Mystery Solved

The mystery of where the American chimney sweep wintered was solved in 1944, when Indians found banded birds in the upper part of the Amazon river in South America.

Mud Is Studied for Army
Ithaca, N. Y. (AP)—A team of Cornell scientists is studying mud for the U. S. Army. They have found some hitherto unrecognized forces at work in common dirt. The purpose is to learn to strengthen soil without tons of cement or other mixtures. Ever since men used mud to make dwellings most everyone, including engineers, believed that soils made of particles of the same size, acted about the same. But clay soils with particles of exactly the same sizes may behave differently. In some clays the tiny particles are held in position by forces that act at a distance. These forces presumably are electrical. Recently a similar force acting between living particles has been discovered by biologists.

ALPINE CLIMBERS? NOPE—Except for their hard hats and jackhammers, these men working high on the sheer rock face of a canyon wall might be mistaken for mountain climbers. But the scene is Hungry Horse, Mont., site of what will soon become the world's fourth largest concrete dam, across the Flathead River. These jackhammermen are drilling holes to prepare for blasting the canyon wall down to the solid bedrock that will support the dam. So steep is the wall that two men are required on each jackhammer.

Bets Said to Help Mining
Perth, Australia (AP)—When a new policeman goes to Collie he learns one thing: Never arrest a man for betting. Collie is a thriving coal-mining town of 5,000 people, 120 miles south of Perth. Collie claims the best record of any mining town in Australia, some say in the world. There is little crime, few drunks, a high rate of production and virtually no absenteeism. Many say Collie has this happy record because the betting laws are not enforced.

BACK IN SCHOOL

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, Sept. 15 (AP)—It may be quite a selling job to get individual Americans to put their cash into British enterprises.

The political brass in Washington and London seem to think they can induce private capital which once flowed from the old world to the new, to reverse itself, go back to the old country, and help allay the financial pains.

But you can't force an individual to invest his money in anything—although, of course, you can force Americans through taxation to invest their collective money in governmental loans and enterprises.

However, the World Bank in its annual report in the newspapers today stresses that this financial aid for others "should be derived mainly from private sources." And the Monetary Fund's annual report, also printed today, says that the United States must "encourage more private investment overseas."

In financial circles most agree that private American investment abroad would be a fine way, if it can be done, to combat the dollar shortage and get the sterling area, and the world, back in good financial health. But in investment circles many think that first there'll have to be some changes made.

And they hope that the President's Committee for Financing Foreign Trade can find the way. This committee of outstanding American bankers and industrialists is charged with solving the problems of incentives and of providing a suitable environment for a high level of private investment, according to the Anglo-American-Canadian conference.

Investment bankers insist that to date these incentives have been lacking. They cite many reasons why investments on this side of the ocean can look like better dollar-and-cent bargains. Let's look at one of them.

The shares of many American corporations are bringing high yields on the money it takes to buy them—higher than you might think if you don't compare their dividend rates with their market value instead of their par value. That is because they are marked down on the Stock Exchange rates to prices that brokers insist are bargains.

Many of these high-yielding, low-priced stocks of corporations of good standing, brokers say, are actually selling for less than the per share values of the working capital of these firms.

Investment bankers say that by purchasing these shares the investors get in addition, and therefore at no cost, all the corporation's fixed assets, all its equipment, all its good-will and all its technical ability. With seeming bargains like these lying around, it's hard to induce investors to put their cash into new enterprises in this country where they would have to buy all these assets at cost price.

This works double for overseas investments. Andre Islet, investment banker who was a French delegate at the Bretton Woods monetary conference, says: "If the investor is thus deterred from making any investment in new enterprises in the United States, he has many more reasons to avoid investments abroad."

What are some of these reasons? There are some obvious ones in the case of investments in Britain and the sterling area.

1. Fear of nationalization of industries in which Americans might put their cash.

2. Fear of currency fluctuations which may erode profits and reduce investment values.

3. Fear of not being able to get profits out in dollars, or his original investment money back—dollar investments are pretty well blocked in Britain now.

4. Fear of political changes which may imperil or destroy a favorable economic climate.

5. Fear the British tax policies may make profits either unlikely or too small to make up for all the other risks involved.

6. And, finally, fear that American tax policies may set up any profits brought back here.

These are the fears that the President's committee will have to allay if it is to create "a suitable environment for a high level of private investment."

If it is to provide incentives for American investors abroad, it may have to do more than suggest that this would be helpful to world peace. "The sterling area itself will have to come in on the act, investment circles here insist, and make some changes. Only that way, they say, will American investors have the really basic incentive—the proper balance between the chances of profit and the probable risks.

The golden-eye fly is so-called because the eye in some lights appears to be of burnished gold.

Benefit Melodrama Opens on Friday

Woodstock, Sept. 15 — The Woodstock Playhouse this week takes on the aspect of a three-ring circus as volunteer carpenters, painters, designers, song and dance teams, and stage technicians all busy themselves on and off stage while members of the cast for the well-known melodrama, "Gold in the Hills or the Dead Sister's Secret" carry on their final rehearsals, for presentation Friday and Saturday evenings, Sept. 16 and 17. The proceeds are for the benefit of the Woodstock Foundation.

Each year the foundation, which was organized three years ago, makes cash awards to worthy professional persons who otherwise might not be able to carry on their creative work. The money for the awards is raised annually through some form of entertainment. Everyone of the hundred or more persons working on committees donates many hours of time and effort to the success of this worthwhile enterprise. Hundreds more in the town make donations over and above the cost of the admission tickets.

The board of directors for the Woodstock Foundation comprises prominent persons associated with all the creative arts as well as the business people in the town. To date the organization has done an amazing job and it is expected that this year more and larger awards will be made because of the splendid cooperation being received from all sides.

While most of the 50 persons in the melodrama cast are Woodstockers, there are others from Kingston and nearby towns in Ulster county. Tickets are on sale in Kingston at the Governor Clinton and Stuyvesant Hotels, at the Woodstock Playhouse, or may be had from Dudley Summers or Ruth Cohn in Woodstock.

Unusual surprises are planned for audiences on both evenings between the acts.

Shakespeare Play Due in October

Woodstock, Sept. 15 — The Margaret Webster Shakespeare Company will begin its second national tour with a three-day engagement at the Woodstock Playhouse October 6, 7 and 8. The troupe's alternating repertoire this year consists of "The Taming of the Shrew" and "Julius Caesar." Heading the cast of 21 players are Louise Horton, Kendall Clark and David Lewis.

Miss Horton won acting honors as the star of the Broadway hit, "The Voice of the Turtle," and her recent performance in the screen image of "All My Sons" puts her outstanding talent beyond any doubt. During recent seasons, Mr. Clark has appeared opposite such stars as Jane Cowl, Eva Le Gallienne and Tallulah Bankhead, even sacrificing the summer months to his profession, he is one of the most popular leading men along the straw hat trail. Mr. Lewis, another familiar performer along Broadway, scored a great personal success in last season's touring productions of "Hamlet" and "Macbeth." Other veterans of the initial tour portraying important roles in the forthcoming plays are John Straub and Frederick Rolf.

Margaret Webster's treatment of the plays interprets Shakespeare's thinking in terms which bring it closest to our own minds and our own society. It is this magic touch which has made her one of the most distinguished Shakespearean directors of our time. Shakespeare's text has been closely adhered to and the modern innovations in costume and scenery were designed to facilitate better understanding of the Bard's works. The functional settings were conceived by Ben Edwards. Lehman Engel, whose incidental music accompanied the first productions, has again arranged an impressive score.

Sanford and Brett Attend Conference

Deputy Fire Chiefs Harold A. Sanford and James M. Brett of the Kingston Fire Department are attending the county fire instructors' conference at White Plains. The two men are instructors in the schools for volunteer firemen in Ulster county held under the direction of the Bureau of Fire Mobilization and Control, State Division of Safety.

Subjects before the conference include practical discussion on the importance and application of fire fighting methods and technique. The need for effective public speaking is also stressed. Instructors are Chief James Just of the University of Maryland and Edward C. Muhlhausen, assistant vice-president of the Empire Trust Company of New York City.

Upon their return from the conference, the two deputy chiefs will make a report to the Ulster County Advisory Board. The conference will end Friday.

Wilson Stops . . .

between what all the properties in the district brought at a tax sale and the amount of the obligation.

"The actual value of the properties within the Woodstock water district, even on a most conservative basis, is 2½ million dollars or 10 times the amount of all water district obligations. It is inconceivable, therefore, that anybody outside the district would ever be called upon to pay any part of the water district's obligations."

Other Districts in County
"There are in existence in Ulster county, four other water districts; namely, Marlborough, Port Ewen, Highland and Phoenicia. The Woodstock water district was created in exactly the same way as each of the other districts in Ulster county. Indeed, hundreds of other water districts in the state of New York were created in exactly the same way as the Woodstock water district."

"Among other things, before the district is created the approval of the state comptroller must be obtained and before such approval is given, the comptroller must satisfy himself that the properties within the district are able to stand the expense of the system. The comptroller's order approving the application of the water district is in the town clerk's office and can be seen by anyone who wants to examine it."

The district referred to is bounded in Bearville at the Barn property on the south at Floodman's Lane, west on the Woodstock side of the country Club bridge on the West Hurley road, and on the east by the Cannon property on the Rock City road.

Each Sentenced To State Prison

New York, Sept. 15 (AP)—Charles Vesich, 27, of 58 Front street, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was sentenced today to serve from 10 to 20 years in state prison for robbery in the first degree. Vesich recently pleaded guilty to that charge. He had been indicted, as well for kidnapping and violation of the Sullivan anti-reason law, but the other charges were dropped.

Vesich and Clayton Craver, 20, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., were alleged to have hired a cab driven by Frank Dunagan, 40, of Statensburg, N. Y., March 5, and to have forced the driver, at the point of a gun, to drive them to the Bronx from Poughkeepsie. At 16th street and Kingsbridge road, the Bronx, it was charged, the pair took a rope from the cab and tied up the driver, robbing him of $10.37.

Craver was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the Elmira reformatory last July 8.

Auto Financing Code

Washington, Sept. 15 (AP)—Automobile industry executives and government officials meet today to draft a fair practices code intended to protect car buyers from price gouges resulting from hidden financing charges. A spokesman for the commission said F.T.C.'s action in calling the meeting was not meant to reflect on the entire motor car industry and its sale practices. But, he said, the agency has received numerous complaints that purchasers have been overcharged from a few dollars to several hundred dollars by hidden financing charges. From its conference with the automobile officials, F.T.C. hopes to gain voluntary compliance with a code governing future sales of cars on credit.

Saves Man From Chair

New York, Sept. 15 (AP)—The man had killed her husband. So the judge left it up to her. Did she want the slayer to die for his crime? She said to let him live. Thus did Mrs. Anna Falletta, 35, the widowed mother of four children, save 35-year-old Carmine (Charlie) Falletta yesterday from the electric chair.

Falletta, who shot her husband, was ordered held for sentencing of not less than 30 years in prison. The judge said the prisoner has a career which will kill him before he is eligible for parole.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 15 (AP)—Leading stocks dropped fractions to around a point today before finding bottom.

Aggressive selling hit the market at the opening after overnight developments raised the possibility of a strike in the steel industry. Buying support appeared almost immediately and the market closed along at the lower level.

Steel, oil and railway shares were singled out for selling attention. Motion picture issues took off on a tack of their own and turned in small gains.

Turnover was comparatively rapid although slower than Wednesday's 1,690,000 shares and Tuesday's 1,720,000.

Not only did traders find a threatened steel strike disturbing but they were also worried about trouble in the soft coal industry. Sold at lower prices were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown sheet, Standard Oil (N.J.), Gulf Oil, Santa Fe, Southern Railway, N. Y. Central, Nickel Plate, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, American Smelting, Kennecott Copper, Allied Chemical, American Woolen and United Air Lines.

Among the handful of issues boosted were Twentieth Century-Fox, Loew's, Warner Bros., Dow Chemical, and Montgomery Ward. Corporate bonds followed a narrow route. U. S. Government bonds tended downward in over-the-counter dealings.

Lower in the curb were Cities Service, Electric Bond & Share, Louisiana Land, Niagara Hudson Power, Scullin Steel, Technicolor, and United Light. Higher were Hockack, National Bellas Hess, Mountain States Power, and United Shoe Machinery.

Officials Try to Learn Whether Man Drowned

Sheriff's office men and Kingston police were trying to determine this afternoon whether an unknown Negro drowned when a truck plunged into the Rondout Creek off Dock street last night.

The truck, a bluish-black International stake truck that had been reported stolen Wednesday night, was hauled from the water at noon today. There was no body inside. The door on the driver's side of the cab was open.

Sheriff George C. Smith said that there is a possibility that the truck thief, if there is one, might have drowned and his body thrown clear of the cab. He said grappling operations may be ordered, unless the story that the truck was stolen proves false.

Questioning of the man who reported the truck stolen continuing on the scene as workmen pulled the truck from the water. Sheriff Smith said there is much doubt in the minds of authorities as to whether the truck actually was stolen or whether the report was made to "cover up the accident."

Way Waldo Coutant, an employee of the Wiltwyck School of Esopus, reported the truck stolen forcibly from him shortly after 11 p. m. Wednesday, local police said.

Stopped at Restaurant

Police said Coutant told them at 5:30 a. m. today that about 10 p. m., Wednesday he stopped at the Lucky Plate Restaurant on Canal street in Kingston to talk with George Peterson, the manager.

About 11 o'clock, he left the restaurant and "a colored man" who was otherwise unidentified, asked him to take him home. Coutant said, according to the police report.

Coutant's story as reported by police was that the two men left in the truck and proceeded south on Route 9W until they reached Fort Ewen, where the unidentified man "became very nasty."

The unknown man struck Coutant about his face, breaking his glasses and forcing him out of the truck, Coutant told police. The man drove off, headed toward Ulster Park, leaving Coutant on the highway, the report continued.

Coutant then related to authorities that he walked to Esopus, notified the night watchman, and then he and the watchman drove around the side roads hoping to find the truck. After having no luck, they went to police headquarters in Kingston and reported the theft, police said.

Police notified the sheriff's office and state police at Lake Katrine.

No more was heard of the truck until about 10:30 a. m. today, when John Otis of 44 Hoffman street, who was in his boat in the Rondout Creek, discovered the truck immersed except for the top of its stake body. The truck was in the creek off Dock street at the point where the railroad siding crosses the street behind the Forst Packing Company plant.

Otis told reporters he notified authorities at the Island Dock Lumber Company, and they in turn notified police. The call was received at police headquarters at 10:45 a. m. from Andrew Mathena, Island Dock superintendent, police said.

Lieutenant James Martin and Sergeant William Messing dispatched B. and K. wrecker, Patrolmen Leonard Ellsworth, Edward Leonard, Guernsey Burger, Jr., Detectives William Krug and Clarence Brophy. The sheriff's office was also notified.

Because of a six-foot dock wall at the point, removal of the truck was difficult. It was finally accomplished by anchoring the wrecker to the railroad track after a hole was cut in the street pavement to permit a chain to be passed around the rail.

Sheriff Smith said that his reasons for doubting the report that the truck was stolen were (1) he learned through investigation that the truck was taken from the Wiltwyck School by Coutant without authority, and (2) Coutant told authorities when he reported the theft at 5:30 a. m. that he did not want the thief prosecuted.

At the sheriff's office at 1 p. m. today authorities were still questioning Coutant, County Investigator Clayton Vredenburg reported. No charges have been placed against him, Vredenburg said.

Hail Injures Romans

Rome, Sept. 15 (AP)—A brief but violent shower of hailstones, some as big as grapefruit, sent a hail dozen Romans to hospitals and clinics for treatment and frightened thousands of others last night. Two persons, hit on the head, were treated for concussion. Dozens of parked automobiles were broken and roofs damaged. Rome's morning newspapers said some of the stones weighed from one to two pounds.

Democratic Caucus

The Democratic caucus for the Town of Ulster will be held Saturday at 8 p. m. in the town barn located on the Saugerties road near the viaduct.

Auction of School
Is Due Saturday
At Big Indian

The second public auctioning of a school in this area is due Saturday, when the one at Big Indian is to be offered for sale at 2:30 p. m. on the premises.

This and two other schools, Bushnellville and Highmount, will be combined into a Central district with a new school building at Mt. Tremper.

Last Saturday the Bushnellville school brought $1,550 at auction, according to officials of Lexington District No. 5, Greene county.

It was sold to Charles Kempf of 418 Forty-third street, Brooklyn, by Fred D. Curo of Pine Hill, president of the Central School Board of Education, who acted as auctioneer. Approximately 60 people attended the sale. Mrs. Edna Newhall of Shandaken was high bidder on the school stove. She bought it for $18.

Vincent G. Connelly, Kingston, the board's attorney, will draw a quit claim deed to the buyer as soon as the other details of the sale are arranged. Proceeds, less sale expenses, will be distributed to taxpayers of the Bushnellville district.

A special meeting of the qualified voters of Highmount School District, (Shandaken No. 3) has been called for September 20 at 7:30 p. m. to vote on closing the school permanently and disposing of the property at auction some time early in October.

No Cause Verdict
Returned in Court

A verdict of no cause of action was returned Wednesday afternoon in County court in the contract action brought by Leon Greenberg and Leon C. Miller, doing business as Leon's Boys Shop against Alfred J. P. Seltz, doing business under the style of Kingston Venetian Blind Company.

The action was brought to recover damages which plaintiff alleged had been suffered through faded merchandise which it was claimed by the plaintiff had been displayed in the window of the store which had been protected by amber curtains bought from defendant. Plaintiff also sought to recover for the cost of the shades. Abraham Streifer appeared for the plaintiff and Harry H. Fleming for the defendant.

Court recessed until 10 o'clock Friday morning.

The Capitol Building in Washington, D. C., is situated on a plateau 88 feet above the Potomac river.

Long Printer's Strike Nears
Settlement in Chicago Area

Chicago, Sept. 15 (AP)—The long and costly strike by 1,500 A.F.L. printers against Chicago's five major daily newspapers appeared near settlement today.

The strikers, who quit work nearly 22 months ago in a dispute over a new contract, will vote Sunday on terms agreed upon last night by union and publishers' representatives.

The new pact calls for a wage increase of $10 a week. The union originally had demanded a pay boost of $15. Provisions of the new contract have been approved by the executive council of the A.F.L. International Typographical Union.

John J. Pilch, president of Local 18, A.F.L.-I.T.U., said the local's officers and scale committee will recommend acceptance of the new contract to the rank and file at Sunday's vote.

A spokesman for the publishers said the contract proposal agreed upon was virtually the same which the union rejected last March and which union officers had termed a "yellow dog contract."

Last night's meeting was the first held between the publishers and union representatives since last March. Previously they had ing the strike. However, this loss has been offset in part by strike benefits they have received from the nation's working membership of the I.T.U.—$60 a week for married men and $40 for single men. Many strikers have not received benefits as they obtained jobs elsewhere.

Wages for the printers, before the strike, were $85.50 for a 36 1/2 hour week for a day shift, $91 for a 36 1/2 hour week for night shift, and $91 for a 30-hour week for the early morning shift.

The publishers had rejected the union's proposed contract, they said, because the terms called for closed shop conditions in violation of the Taft-Hartley Law.

The strike against the dailies was believed one of the longest against a group of metropolitan city newspapers. But the struck newspapers—the Tribune, the Daily Sun-Times, Daily News, Herald-American and Journal of Commerce—have not missed a day's publication since the strike started Nov. 24, 1947.

The strike of the composing room workers brought a new look to Chicago's dailies. A new technique of newspaper printing was started. The printed pages were prepared by typing stories with typewriters, pasting them in place on large dummy sheets, fitting cut-out headlines over them, and photographing the finished page for reproduction by electrotyping.

The photoengraving operations were improved greatly during the lengthy strike but were slower than printing. The difficulties of operating with idle linotype batteries resulted in late press runs and fewer editions in the early weeks of the strike.

The printers have lost an estimated $13,000,000 in wages during the strike.

YOU'LL ENJOY ONE OF THESE LONG DISTANCE CHATS...

We were surprised to find that so many people still think or feel there is some reason for restricting their use of the long distance telephone. There was a good reason in wartime, when we used to say, "Save seven to ten—for the service men," but there isn't now. So why not make that out-of-town call to wish somebody a happy birthday, arrange a trip, find out how Aunt Martha is getting along, or just for the fun of talking to somebody miles away.

As more and more long distance circuits become available each day, most out-of-town calls take less than a minute to put through; and we can't think of anything that is likely to give you more pleasure for the little it costs.

How to telephone

out-of-town at bargain rates:

First, use the fast, low-cost Station-to-Station service—which means you will talk to anyone who answers the number you call. If you don't know an out-of-town number, give the operator the name and address. She'll be glad to complete the call and give you the number for future reference.

Secondly, take advantage of the low night and Sunday rates, which are generally in effect from 6 p. m. to 4:30 a. m. weekdays and all day Sunday.

YOU CAN'T PASS OUT CIGARS over the telephone—but you can let all your friends in on the "big event." You'll get a kick out of saying "It's a boy... girl... twins" over the long distance wires.

ON YOUR TRIP use the long distance telephone to keep in touch with home. Particularly on a motor trip the telephone helps sidetrack worries.

YOU KNOW NOW MOTHER IS. She will worry if she doesn't hear from you! A long distance call will reassure her. It doesn't cost any extra to talk to Dad, too.

It costs so little to call—

Persons 65 years and more of age have the highest death rate of any age group.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Active boys and girls demand lots of sweets. Give them all the wholesome puddings and fruit desserts they want, provided of course they have eaten the main part of the meal first.

Good desserts can be easily turned out with the help of the many prepared packaged puddings on the market today. To most of them all you need to do is add milk (of prime importance in the growing child's diet).

But don't let monotony dull the fun of your desserts. Combine chocolate and vanilla puddings, for example, add fruit or nuts to others.

If you want a very simple dessert for the younger children, but a more elaborate one for the rest of the family, serve a plain prepared dessert to the little ones, but add a rich chocolate sauce or other ingredients to the older eaters' dessert.

Here are a few easy to make and easy to eat desserts for all ages—nursery school to post-graduate.

Orange Coconut Tapioca: Turn contents of package into a saucepan. Add 2 cups milk and mix well. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil—this takes about 5 minutes. (Mixture will be thin. Do not overcook.) Cool. Stir once after 15 to 20 minutes. (Mixture thickens as it cools.)

Orange-Coconut Tapioca Parfait: Makes 4-6 Servings. Prepare orange coconut tapioca pudding as directed above. Cool. To make diagonal design, hold parfait glass at 45 degree angle and partially fill with cold pudding. Still holding glass at same angle, add small amount of chocolate sauce, then pudding; repeat with sauce and pudding.

Chocolate Parfait Sauce: (Makes about 1 cup sauce) Two squares unsweetened chocolate, 6 tablespoons water, ½ cup sugar, dash of salt, 3 tablespoons butter, ¼ teaspoon vanilla. Combine chocolate and water in saucepan and place over low heat, stirring until blended. Add sugar and salt. Cook until sugar is dissolved and mixture very slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Add butter and vanilla.

TOMORROW'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Stewed prunes, ready-to-eat cereal, soft-cooked eggs, raisin toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

SCHOOL BOX LUNCH: Sardine or tuna fish salad sandwiches, hard-cooked egg, raw carrot sticks, whole pear, chocolate brownie, milk (tea for adults).

DINNER: Tomato juice, creamed salmon and peas in individual ramekins, baked potatoes, buttered Swiss chard, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, tomato and water-cress salad, apple brown Betty, hard sauce, coffee, milk.

To Discuss Lights

Christmas lighting will be the subject discussed at a meeting of the Uptown Business Men's Association in Newberry's basement on Tuesday, September 20, at 9:30 a. m. Matt Morgan, president, urges that all members attend to take action on the budget for the project.

CREAMO ONLY MARGARINE WITH CREAM

5 out of 6 choose Creamo in Taste-Test

When you buy margarine, look for the package with the big red "C"—the box that says CREAMO. That's the only margarine made with cream. Naturally, that means extra flavor, extra goodness. The extra flavor means Creamo is more delicious and more economical because Creamo's extra flavor goes farther. Get a pound of extra delicious Creamo Margarine today. The first taste will convince you what a big difference pure cream really makes. Spread Creamo on your bread, toast and biscuits. And don't forget, Creamo's cream-sweet flavor works miracles melted over your hot dishes. Use it on vegetables and in baking and frying. You'll find the most ordinary foods taste like banquet dishes. Ask your grocer for cream-enriched Creamo, today, and see for yourself.

"... says she just heard Creamo's made with cream." (see column at right)

Nationalization Loses Out

Sydney (AP)—Australia's labor government is doing little about nationalization. It hasn't the power. The Australian constitution says: "Trade, commerce, and intercourse among the states, whether by means of internal carriage, or ocean navigation, shall be absolutely free." That sentence, in Section 92, has been the weaker of Labor Party dreams of nationalization. There have been 40 high court cases, and two privy council cases in which judges and lords have decided how section 92 applies in certain cases.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

The old-time quip about the "Supreme Court following the election returns" has its counterpart in the Steel Fact Finders' Report.

Not many people, probably, will take the time to read thoughtfully the summary and recommendations of President Truman's Fact-Finding Board concerning the steel controversy.

It should be studied by everybody, it seems to me, because it sets forth a philosophy of management-labor dealings which is decidedly within the "trend" of modern thought in government—and is well within the trend, also, of mass opinions and thinking.

At the same time, the board intelligently attacked a number of fallacies presented by the union spokesmen.

Thirdly, the board's summarized report does not reveal any resentment or hurt feelings which might have been caused by the curt comments of several of the steel-company executives.

All in all, this realistic reactionary believes that the report is far better than might have been expected. It is sure to have far-reaching influence in establishing patterns of thought and discussion in coming labor-management controversies. There is little ambiguity or fence-straddling. The board has expressed its findings and opinions plainly and it we do not agree with them at least we know what philosophy of labor relations they adhere to and recommend.

The Ruminator was struck particularly with the emphasis placed upon the theory of "security." If one trend is marked in this country it is the modern thought of protecting people against their own mismanagement and their own failure to provide for their old age and loss of jobs.

This is in sharp contrast with the philosophy of, say, the previous century. The industrial development of the United States was built upon a quite contrary philosophy—one of the "survival of the fittest." However, as time has passed and statistical evidence has demonstrated that a large proportion of people cannot take care of themselves in our fast-living age, this regard for "public welfare" has become symbolized politically by the New Deal, the Fair Deal and the Welfare State.

While it is evident that paternalism can be overdone—that it weakens character and breeds "leaners" rather than strong people who stand on their own feet—nevertheless, security for workers is a definite part of the pattern of the future.

It is notable in the board's report that the recommendations calling for social insurance and pensions will become, if accepted, a fixed expense of the companies concerned. The basis is upon a cost per worker—not per hour, or per day. Social insurance is to cost "a maximum of $30 per year, per employee" and the pension plan to cost "a maximum of $120 per employee per year." In other words, the companies will have to shoulder an added constant expense of $200 a year for each worker. The board points out that on a basis of 2,000 hours of employment annually, the cost will approximate four cents an hour for social security and six cents for pensions, or a total added expense of 10 cents an hour. To repeat, this 10 cents an hour is "if the workers work 2,000 hours a year. There will be much argument, of course, over this point because an additional fixed, or constant, charge is quite different from variable costs which go up and down with sales. Also, there will be the additional accounting problems during layoffs and part-time employment.

It is likewise noteworthy that the board turned down the demands for increases in straight wages and its economic reasons were intelligently stated. This is commendable, as "straight wage-increases at this time do not appear warranted, and would be a matter of course stimulate an inflationary trend. There is enough five under the boilers now, without adding to the fuel.

There are other viewpoints expressed by the board, however, which contain dynamite.

The Ruminator finds himself in blunt disagreement with these viewpoints, and he believes they are extremely dangerous. Note this paragraph (Section C-1F):

The concept of providing social insurance and pensions for workers in industry has become an accepted part of American thinking. Unless government provides such insurance in adequate amount, industry should step in to fill the gap.

Official recognition and "advice" to government and industry in a prominent report of this nature is to be condemned. Objectively, the board should have recommended the "insurance," with reasons why, and then inserted a period. We need to avoid heaping additional fuel upon the fires of controversy between government and industry concerning the problem of social security, pensions and hand-outs.

In the same section, paragraph D we read that "the more important consideration is the social obligation which the board finds rests upon industry to provide insurance against the economic hazards of modern industrial life, including retirement allowances, IN AN ADEQUATE AMOUNT." A SUPPLEMENTARY TO THE AMOUNT OF SECURITY FURNISHED BY GOVERNMENT." (Emphasis supplied.) Here again we note the dangerous philosophy of playing private industry against government in a manner which will cause endless arguments in the years to come.

These gratuitous side remarks of the board are to be regretted, in this writer's sober opinion. The objectivity of the report is damaged severely by these highly personalized comments upon what government "should do" and what industry "should do."

Finally, the recognized course that the Fact-Finding Board has further cemented the leftward highway which will make for smoother driving for the Welfare Staters. However, as this direction has been clearly indicated for several years, I do not see any reason for permitting our blood pressure to rise on this account. A realistic reactionary regrets the trend, which is clearly marked, but accepts it cheerfully. What else can he do, except write columns like these?

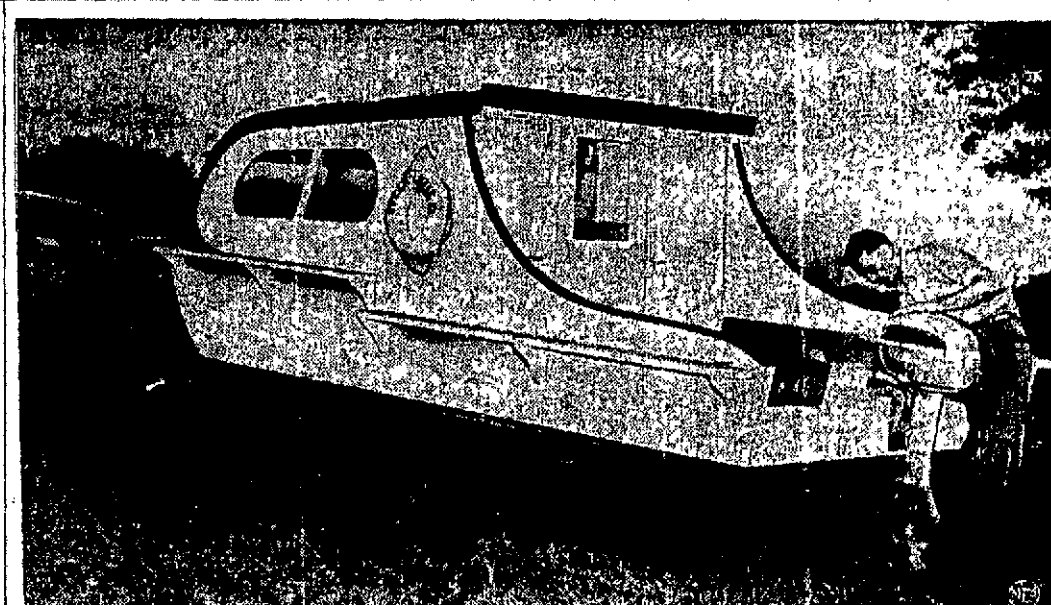

Marlborough Woman Wanted in Virginia

Henrietta DuBois, 38, of Orchard street, Marlborough, was arrested Wednesday by Sheriff George C. Smith and County Investigator Clayton W. Vreeland on a warrant issued out of the state of Virginia which charges she is a fugitive from justice and is wanted in Richmond, Va.

She was paroled in custody of her counsel, Michael Nardone of Highland, to appear before County Judge John M. Cassin on October 14. Born in Newburgh, Mrs. DuBois is alleged under the Virginia charge to have detained a 16-year-old girl against the wishes of the mother, who comes from Virginia.

Four Offices Open

Democrats of the town of Gardiner held their town caucus Wednesday night. There was no nomination for supervisor. John M. Moran was named candidate for town clerk, Joseph Deyo for justice of the peace and A. D. McKinstry for councilman. Town superintendent, collector, assessors remain open.

Bowling Tourney Backed; Cut in Trains Is Checked

At this week's meeting the Kingston Chamber of Commerce offered full cooperation in bringing the New York state bowling tournament to the city, discussed curtailed train service, received the resignation of one director and discussed participation of the local unit in programs of the national body.

The chamber went on record as wholly behind the Kingston Women's Bowling Association in bringing the state tournament here early in the spring, and President Robert E. Teetsel urged that all members cooperate in arranging plans to make the event successful.

The traffic and transportation committee was assigned the problem of checking with the New York Central Railroad relative to curtailed train service after a schedule was read specifying that several more trains be eliminated on the West Shore Division.

Chairman Harry Gold, local attorney, and his committee will check the following changes: Train 13, arriving in Kingston at 6:20 p. m., from New York will stop here and not run to Albany; Train 25, running Saturday and Sunday only, arriving here at 2:46 p. m., will no longer run to Albany; Train 26, arriving here from Albany 6:54 p. m., will run from Kingston to Weehawken only; Train 16, from Albany on Sundays at 7:18 a. m., will run from here to Weehawken only.

After September 25, the first and only morning train from Albany will arrive at 10:45 a. m., standard time. The only other night train will leave Albany at 11:50 o'clock. This will leave only four passenger trains from Albany in 24 hours.

The resignation of John J. Van Gonsle as a director, was read and accepted with sincere regrets. Being out of the city a large percentage of the time and less of personal business were given as the reasons for his resignation. Elmer Rylance, a partner of W. H. Rylance and Sons, commercial printers of 45 Hurley avenue, was elected to fill the unexpired term.

A plan presented by Herman W. Steinkaus, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, to promote the participation of local Chambers of Commerce in national affairs was approved. President Teetsel was authorized to appoint a special committee for the annual dinner and also for the forthcoming election of directors. Teetsel stated that those named will be announced in the near future. A letter of welcome to new residents was authorized. This will be distributed by the Chamber by the Welcome Wagon Service soon to be inaugurated here.

Directors who attended the Tuesday meeting included: James P. Byrne, Byron S. Chatham, Frederick J. K. Ertel, Adrian Kaplan, Lawrence J. MacAvery, Edmund P. Rochford, Clifford C. Rose, Victor H. Roth, James L. Rowe, Clarence S. Rowley, George W. Schneider, Henry

Blonde, 22, Says Ex-Convict Will Live Uprightly

Baltimore, Sept. 15 (AP)—Peggy Peterson, 22, blonde and pretty, fell in love with a convict.

She was a receptionist and typist in one of the offices at San Quentin Prison, California.

William J. Sansbury, a 24-year-old convicted burglar, was assigned to the same office as a clerk.

"I don't know when or how we fell in love exactly," she said. But she does know that it has sent her life up a new, uncharted road that has not been easy to follow.

Sansbury was released on parole from San Quentin recently after serving 21 months for burglary. He was brought to Baltimore to stand trial on a two-year old charge that he forged $875 in checks.

The trial was held yesterday in Criminal Court before Judge Robert France.

Sansbury's attorney told the story of the prison romance. Then Peggy took the witness stand. She had quit her job to come east to help Sansbury.

"Judge, I know he'll go straight," she pleaded.

She had left from her savings to help Sansbury make restitution for the offense he admitted. Peggy disclosed she has applied for a marriage license. Whether or not they can be wed she said, depends on permission of the California parole authorities and on the outcome of the Baltimore trial.

Judge France, although sympathetic, said he will postpone a decision until he gets more information on the case from the Maryland probation department.

Meanwhile, Peggy is trying to find a job.

The worst feature of being in love with a convict, she said, is the social stigma which may arise, "especially in a small town."

She disclosed she is from one of those small towns, near San Francisco. She won't tell which one.

But, the pretty blonde told reporters, she is determined to see this through.

"They all tell me I'm foolish," she said with a smile, "but I just know Bill won't go wrong again."

Wherry Praises Gains

Washington, Sept. 15 (AP)—Republicans who have been calling for all-out attacks on the Truman administration grabbed for the G.O.P. campaign reins today on the strength of a Pennsylvania special election victory. As an example, Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the G.O.P. floor leader, said his party's success in a trial run in the 26th Pennsylvania District "shows there is no room for me-tooers and compromisers in next year's fight for control of Congress. "We've got to give the Democrats hell if we expect to win," Wherry told a reporter.

Strike Offensive Fades

Helsinki, Finland, Sept. 15 (AP)—The strike offensive started Aug. 17 by Finland's Communists has faded into history. At the outside, only 1,200 workers still are on strike, and these probably will resume work in a day or so.

British Reach Albany After Tea at Catskill

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 15 (AP)—A British warship—the first to come up the Hudson river in 170 years—rode at anchor today in the Port of Albany.

The 300-foot frigate, H. M. S. Snipe, sailed up the Hudson yesterday on a good will tour that started a month ago in Key West, Fla.

"For the most part the trip up the river was foggy," Commander C. G. Walker reported. "We had some rain during the early part of the trip and later considerable fog."

As the vessel passed Catskill,

35 miles south of Albany, a "stand easy" was sounded and the crew had late afternoon tea.

The last British ship to try the trip up the river was the sloop Vulture in 1779. That ship didn't get beyond West Point, where Revolutionary soldiers had erected fortifications and strung a huge iron chain across the river.

The Snipe will stay in Albany 10 days, then will go to Washington, D. C.

Commander Walker was to call on Governor Dewey and Mayor Ernest Corning today.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

A discussion came up the other day about Kingston being the capital of the nation. The following was brought to my attention and I quote from Clearwater's book on the County of Ulster, covering the burning of Kingston, page 207: "Governor Clinton's reinforcements had not arrived, but he sent all his available troops on to Kingston, feeling sure the new state capital, and at that time the capital of the nation, would be the object of attack." This happened October, 1777 just 172 years ago.

E. W. of Wurts street sent me over an item from the Sunday Herald Tribune titled "Ghost Voices on Hudson" by Frank O. Braynard. It seems, William Hopkins Even, president of the Steamship Historical Society of America, is using a tape recorder to make a systematic recording of the whistles of famous Hudson river boats. He says, "people are always taking photographs of boats and preserving historical data, and it seems just as sensible to do it in sound, too." He first recorded the whistle of the Hudson River Day Line's Robert Fulton. The whistle originally carried by the old Mary Powell has been heard up and down the Hudson since 1861. Recently in recording the Alexander Hamilton's whistle, in playing it back, he found the ship's dance orchestra, her clanging engine room bells and the swish of her paddle wheels.

Mr. Ewen, who is assistant advertising manager of the Borden Co., said he is sorry he couldn't record the old DeWitt Clinton, now renamed Gallia and serving between Marcellus and ports in Israel as an immigrant carrier. She is the only Hudson river steamboat ever to cross the Atlantic. She started, the Gallia has a fine whistle, very deep and commanding. The Hudson has many kinds of whistles, there are chime whistles, of course, as distinct from air horns and other modern sounding devices. Today's modern vessels adopt the single or dual-tone horn. It may be louder and more suitable for signaling, but it certainly does not have the nice, pleasant sound of the triple or quadruple tone steam whistle.

He says he is anxious to record the "Bear Mountain" of the Sutton Line. "It starts with a single tone and works up to a crescendo of several tones." He was told that the whistle came from the old Kaaterskill, of the Catskill Evening Line. The Bear Mountain used to be the Catskill Line's Clairmont, he said. He also added: "One of the finest whistles on the Hudson was on the Benjamin B. Odell, of the Central Hudson Line; tone blending on this instrument was a deep whistle with three chambers and a triple tone, a unique sound." Well I guess most of us downers of the 1920's were brought up on those sounds. Remember when the Mary Powell would sound off as she came around by the lighthouse. It was curious to many especially during school days.

I wonder if he has a recording of the "Armonia", a Hudson river boat of the 1860's which had a 34-whistle calliope which could play such tunes as "Way Down Upon the Swanne River." It used to compete in speed with our good old Mary Powell.

Prisma's Adopted Austrian Student Arrives

Elizabeth Hohenauer (center) of Innsbruck, Austria, whom Prisma has adopted for a year through the American Field Service program, arrived in Kingston last week-end. With Elaine Eigo and Shirley Bundy, last year's Prisma president, she marvels at the American standard of living. The colorful advertisements in the magazines and radio jingles are new to her. (Freeman Photo)

Prisma's Adopted Students Gets Acquainted With Life in America During Pre-School Visit

Elizabeth Hohenauer, 17-year-old school girl from Innsbruck, Austria, is becoming acquainted with American life as she visits the homes of Prisma girls this week. She is the student who Prisma Society of Kingston High School adopted for one year in the American Field Service program of bringing approximately 500 students to America for a year's study.

Miss Hohenauer arrived in New York last Friday aboard the Marine Tiger with 35 other Austrian students, 300 American students returning from Europe and other European students coming to America for study. She immediately came to Kingston where she has been the guest in the homes of Prisma girls. She will leave the first part of next week for Middlebury, Conn., to attend Westover School this year, but will be in Kingston for the vacation periods.

Under the American Field Service plan, Prisma will contribute $750 to Miss Hohenauer's account for the year which will pay for board, room, transportation, books, spending money and perhaps toward tuition at the Westover School, a private school for girls. Prisma also will be responsible for her during the vacation periods.

The student originally became interested in the plan following her entrance in an essay contest on "The World We Want." She filled out the necessary applications for an American Field Service scholarship and upon careful screening by two boards, she was selected to come to America.

Under this plan the American Field Service hopes to give foreign young people a first-hand view of American democracy. They must promise to return to their country and it is hoped they will exert influence on various organs which run their countries.

The abundance of cars was the first thought the Austrian girl had as she saw the many automobiles on the streets.

"Almost every family has a radio and record player, she continued in her discussion of the American standard of living.

"I saw my first television the other night in Kingston," she said, and she spoke also of attending the movies although many of the American films are shown in her homeland. She doesn't care for Westerns but mentioned Madame Bovary, The Best Years of Our Lives and the Song of Bernadette as more to her choosing.

"American ice cream is very good," Miss Hohenauer said, speaking of her visits to the drive-in eating places, a new experience for her. She likes American hamburgers and "hot dogs" but not the "cokes" or American butter. The change in taste of food is the most difficult adjustment for the Austrian student.

"Your homes are so very nice," she noted. "Every family has a little home of its own. We have big buildings where many families live," she said.

However, she did decide that her home town of Innsbruck with 100,000 population is much larger than Kingston and would correspond with America's larger cities where apartment houses would be similar to her home type of dwellings.

at high school Tuesday and wore her native Tyrolean costume. It consists of a black skirt banded with red worn over a many ruffled petticoat. An apron of changeable gold and bronze material, white blouse trimmed with lace collar and cuffs, green and red bolero and black ribbon worn around the neck, crossed at the front and caught to the shoulders of the dress. This is the Sunday best festival costume of her homeland in the Austrian Tyrol.

Schools Differ

Kingston High School she found to be quite different from her school in Innsbruck where there are no co-educational institutions. Before the war there was a school for girls and one for boys but one of the buildings was destroyed and now the girls attend in the morning and the boys in the afternoon.

Questioned as to the extra-curricular activities so popular in America, Miss Hohenauer said, "In Innsbruck we go to school to learn. We do not have clubs like Prisma or any other organizations."

The high schools or secondary schools are divided much as in America's larger cities. There is a school for the study of modern languages; another for mathematics; another for the trades.

General subjects such as history, biology, geography and the like are taught at all of the schools but the students select schools by the choice of their majors.

Community Clubs

Clubs for young people are organized in the community such as art clubs, music and glee clubs, but these groups have no relation to the school.

During some of the war years she attended boarding school in Munich but because of the bombings the children were transferred to Bad Tolz in upper Bavaria. After the war she returned to Innsbruck with her mother. She noted that prices were high in her homeland but that there seemed to be enough food and clothing if one had the means to buy them. Eggs are about $1.20 a dozen.

She expects to visit the Roosevelt home at Hyde Park this week and is thoroughly enjoying her visits with the girls. The aeration plant at the Ashokan reservoir was most intriguing for Miss Hohenauer who had seen many lakes in her homeland but never such man made fountains.

She will be a senior at the Westover school this year where she hopes to continue her study of languages.

Prisma members entertaining Miss Hohenauer at their homes this week are the Misses Jean Anderson, Kathleen Joyce, Arlene Crow, Carol Dawkins, Barbara Millens of this city and Nancy Bogart, High Falls. During the day while the girls are in school Miss Shirley Bundy, last year's president, and Miss Elaine Eigo, of last year's class, are the hostesses.

Passes as German

Rennes, France (AP) — Robert Hocket, 37-year-old Alsatian wanted by the gendarmes in connection with the alleged theft of a motor-cycle and 32,000 francs in 1945, has been found working as a German on a farm in Brittany. He said he managed to get admitted to a camp as a German prisoner, claiming he had escaped from England. 'Crow's Nest'
The name "crow's nest," for the little platform on the mast of a ship is believed to derive from the fact that Vikings actually carried crows in that position. When they were lost they would release a crow and follow it when it flew toward the nearest land.

Singer Expects Crowd to See Lightweight Champs Tonight

Barnes, New York-Canadian Ring Boss, Meets Quaker State Titlist

This is boxing night at the municipal auditorium and indications are that there will be a crowded house for the first B'nai B'rith card since last spring, featuring two state champions, Bobby Barnes of Buffalo, and Charlie Bloss, Pennsylvania state lightweight title holder.

Bloss, who went to the semi-finals in the New York Golden Gloves tournament missed meeting Barnes and has been eager for a crack at him ever since. Barnes holds the eastern U. S. Gloves title and the Canadian amateur lightweight honors, according to George Lampshire, his trainer, who looks for him to come through with flying colors tonight.

Pat Roarty, Wilkes-Barre trainer, labels Bloss as one of the hardest hitting 134-pounders in the Quaker State, and claims he has defeated some of the best Simon Pures in the east. "I know Barnes is clever, but he'll have to be more than cute to get away from Charlie's terrific right," said Roarty.

Chairman Singer is proud of having been able to procure two top-notch scrappers such as Barnes and Bloss for his opening card of the winter season, and told the press that B'nai B'rith has plans to bring in only the best available amateur talent for the indoor season.

The organization quit running ring shows last spring after several years of successful promoting in order to give baseball full swing in the community. Tonight's complete card, scheduled to start at 9 o'clock, is as follows:

Five Rounders
Bobby Barnes, 135, Buffalo, eastern Golden Gloves and Canadian champion vs. Charlie Bloss, 138, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania state champion
Cosmo DiBasi, 138, Wilkes-Barre vs. Abe Dickson, 135, Buffalo
Bob Provizoli, 155, Scranton, Pa. vs. Dick Edwards, 150, Ogdensburg
Libby Mazzarelli, 130, Jeffersonville Lions Club favorite vs. Rufus Rodgers, 130, Albany.

Three Rounders
Al Kolano, 155, Utica vs. Butch Albright, Kingston
Tito White, 149, Albany vs. Ruby Dexter, 150, Utica
Phil Talorico, 130, Utica vs. Willie Smith, 130, Poughkeepsie.

Night Rebs
University Miss (U. P.) — Mississippi's football forces will face five night foci this season, four on the road. The Memphis State game is a home encounter, while the Auburn, Boston College, TCU and Louisiana State battles are visiting nocturnal affairs for the Rebels.

Hialeah Landmark
Miami (AP) — Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, dean of American trainers who recently celebrated his 75th birthday, enjoys the distinction of having stabled horses in Barn A at Hialeah every winter since the rebuilding of the track in 1931.

The highest pitching percentage of the major league pitchers who won more than 300 games was posted by Robert (Lefty) Grove—680.

The highest batting average ever posted in the major leagues was the .438 of Hugh Duffy of Boston in 1894.

DOUBLE PLAY PIVOT

Shortstop Johnny Sullivan throws to first as he pivots on a double-play in the first inning of the first game of the New York-St. Louis twin bill at Yankee Stadium, New York. Slinging out is Yanks' Cliff Mapes (7). Yanks' Bobby Brown, who started the action with a grounder to the box, was nipped at first by the throw. Yanks beat Browns 2-0 in opener and 13-7 in second game.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

By The Associated Press

(By The Associated Press)
The Brooklyn Dodgers must be wondering today just what must they do to catch the high flying St. Louis Cardinals?

Since the first of the month, the Brooks have piled up 11 victories in 13 tries, a true championship gain.

And just how much yardage did they pick up on the Redbirds during that torrid stretch drive? Not a foot. While the Dodgers were polishing off Boston, New York and Cincinnati, the Cards duplicated the Dodgers feat by winning 11 of their last 13 skirmishes.

So as the two perennial rivals swing into the final two weeks of the blistering National League campaign, the Cards still cling to the game and a half edge they held last September 1.

The Dodgers drew first blood yesterday, knocking off their favorite playmates the Cincinnati Reds, 4-2, in an afternoon tussle. That narrowed the Cards' edge to one game. A Redbird defeat meant the slimmest of margins between the two clubs—a half length.

But it was not to be. The Giants proved easy prey for the Redbirds, bowing under a 9-3 lacing as Harry (The Cat) Brecheen continued his nightly prowl with a 10-hit effort. Brecheen a very effective tonight hurler notched his seventh triumph in 10 lamp-light decisions.

Yankees Gain
In the American League, the Yankees advanced a couple of more strides toward their 16th championship, by sweeping both ends of a double bill from the hapless St. Louis Browns, 2-0 and 13-7. The sweep enabled the Bronx Bombers to increase their first place lead over Boston to three full games, despite the Red Sox's 1-0 victory over Detroit.

Cleveland virtually eliminated itself by dropping a 2-1 decision to the Philadelphia Athletics as Rookie Bobby Shantz beat Bobby Feller. The Indians now are seven and a half games off the pace, three percentage points ahead of the fourth place Tigers.

In other games the Chicago White Sox dumped the Washington Senators 8-1, Philadelphia's Phillies whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 12-4 and the Chicago Cubs outslugged the Boston Braves, 8-7.

Palestinian Retired
New York, Sept. 15 (AP)—Palestinian, the colt which barely missed winning several of the big three-year-old classics this season, has been retired for the year. Trainer Ilsech Jacobs announced today. "I plan to ship him to Jack Sienner's farm at Middleburg, Va," said Jacobs, co-owner of the colt with Isidore Eliezer. "He will come back to racing next year." Jacobs said the son of Sun Again had shown signs of soreness in one of his rear legs.

The 23 home runs which won the National League championship for Ralph Kiner in 1946 comprised the lowest winning total since 1926.

Is Prime Favorite
Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 15 (AP)—A local lady has a pretty fair chance of making good in the 49th annual U. S. Women's Amateur golf championship. The title being contested over the rolling east course of the Merion Golf Club went into the quarter final round today with Philadelphia's Dorothy Germain Porter a prime favorite. The comely Mrs. Porter, twice a western amateur champion—won one of tournament history's most thrilling matches yesterday as she outlasted the veteran campaigner, Mrs. Julius A. Page of Greensboro, N. C., 1 up in 21 holes.

Work Shoe Talk

for men who care

"I never knew what the right shoe for my job could do for me until I wore THOROGOOD." is a statement made to us over and over by many customers since we were given the agency by the THOROGOOD people.

Only THOROGOOD WORK SHOES are designed for your job—regardless of what your work is. If every man deserved a good pair of shoes, it's the man who is on his feet working long hours. The right shoe for him means solid comfort. It means perfect fit. It means protection where needed. It means longer wear. In many cases, it results in better work for more earnings.

THOROGOOD builds shoes with "guts" to them. THOROGOOD gives you a built-in arch for support; an arch leather pad; an inner sole of 1/2" thickness of leather; sole of leather, cork, cord, or composition; barbed uppers or genuine government retan leather; and any size or width that a man may need in the mid-Hudson Valley.

We feature a shoe for every job in this area. See us first!

Guess which 5-letter word means...

both this... ...and this?

But no guessing about BALLANTINE

...it always means PURITY

• The word is trunk! Right you are! Here's a trunk you lift... here's a trunk that lifts you! The artist makes it clear that trunk is another one of those double-talk words. It can keep you guessing.

But no guessing about Ballantine! Ballantine always means PURITY, BODY, FLAVOR... the qualities symbolized by Peter Ballantine's 3-ring trade mark. Look for the 3 rings; call for Ballantine—America's finest since 1840.

Medical Report Given in Schools; 5,862 Examined

During the school year 1948-49 a total of 5,862 pupils were examined under the supervision of Dr. Samuel S. Nussbaum, school medical director of Kingston, out of a total registration of 5,883. In addition there were 646 other athletic and special examinations conducted.

There was a total of 1,450 children who showed entirely negative results, 1,929 were found to have minor, non-reportable defects and 2,483 pupils were found to have noticeable defects. The number of defects corrected was 2,068. Correction of minor defects is one of the chief objects of the school examination and the corrections are carried out with the cooperation of the pupil, parent and other the school doctors or the family physician.

The leading defect found was that in teeth, a total of 1,951 were found to have defective teeth. Second in line was tonsils and poor eyes was third with a total of 276. Fourth on the list was nutrition with 157 cases and ear difficulty showed up in 110 pupils.

Dr. Nussbaum and his assistants conducted 3,505 tuberculosis tests, including 100 per cent of the school personnel and his report to the Board of Education stated "it is interesting and extremely gratifying to find that no positive tuberculosis cases were found among pupils or school personnel."

During the year 2,743 notes pertaining to health were mailed, there were 1,548 home calls made and 5,229 pupil-conferences were held, 3,269 teacher conferences, 942 parents and 297 others for a total of 9,437 conferences. The school medical department made a total of 12,722 inspections, rendered first aid to 3,000. There were 745 child exclusions during the year.

Until June 24 there were 561 regular working permits granted, 78 limited and none was refused. Following is a breakdown of the defects found among pupils attending the city public schools:

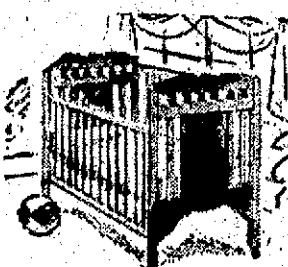

Nutrition, 157; nose, 20; ears, 110; hernia, 11; skin, scalp, 16. Teeth, 1,951; glands, 27; cardiac, 45; orthopedic, 11; nerv., m., 32; others 55.

Tonsils, 239; eyes, 279; lungs, 2; severe posture, 107; speech 6. The following summary of the work of the school medical department was made by Dr. Nussbaum to the board:

All children who are in school and available have been examined. If there are any discrepancies between the registration and the number examined, it is only because there were many children who may have been with us for just a few hours or days and then transferred to schools in other communities. Furthermore, there were 240 pre-kindergarten examinations completed for next Fall.

the end of the school year.

Dental

The dental program is excellent and should be continued. As the tremendous backlog of dental work is cleared up in the next few years, more preventative dentistry can be considered.

Education

Frederick Hoffman of the Freeman and Robert Browning of WINKY gave us very fine publicity for our pre-school examinations and these clinics were a marked success. We were particularly pleased with the promised cooperation of all the mothers interviewed with regard to corrections during the summer. In the future, however, we shall try to hold these clinics at the individual schools; a more convenient arrangement for the average parent.

Welfare

Regarding our suggestion for a Welfare Fund, we are pleased to report this fund officially opened with a check for $50 submitted by the Jr. Married Women's Club of the Y.W.C.A. This has been deposited at the Ulster County National Bank. We hope to add to the fund and use it to good purpose.

We are grateful to Drs. Cranstoun, Calvin Jacobson, and Martin and the 40 and 8 for a series of tonsilectomies. Our thanks to Kiwanis, Lions' Club, Women's Club of St. Joseph's, and Drs. Jaeger, LeFever, and Rudisch and all other organizations who participated in providing glasses for a large number of students who would have found it difficult otherwise to correct serious eye defects.

In conclusion, I should like to point out that up to the present we have 88.86 per cent corrections and we hope to achieve an ever increasing index of good health.

Respectfully submitted,
SAMUEL S. NUSSBAUM, M.D.

Celebrating Our
18th Year in Business

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

PRE-TELEPHONE AGE

The following letter may sound trivial, but actually it describes a situation that can be very embarrassing: "I love the young children of my friends. I play with them, bathe them, feed them and on occasion 'sit' with them whole days or evenings. But why do I have to go through the agony of talking to them on the telephone? Not only the children of one mother but those of my five best friends! Every time I call one of these mothers (unless it is after the children are in bed) each mother suggests 'Don't you want to say something to Susie?' or 'Johnny would like to talk to you!' Of course, I say yes. On 'unlimited' local calls I don't mind; even so there are long periods of dead silence with little squeaks and yowls as well as jumbled syllables. And on toll calls they are just that much more painful!"

Mixing Tuxedos

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it possible in this hot climate (Texas) for the ushers at an early evening wedding to wear white tuxedo coats and black trousers while the groom and his best man are in all dark tuxedos? Must they match all the way?

Answer: It would be quite all right if the bridegroom and best man wore white coats also, but the mixture would be conspicuously bad.

Eating the Last of Soup

Dear Mrs. Post: When eating soup out of a plate, may the plate be tipped to get the last and if so, which way? Sometimes it is hard to get the last out of a bowl, too.

Answer: To tip the plate away from you, lifting the rim directly in front of you by holding the bent forefinger of your left hand under the rim of the plate and dipping the spoon away from you is quite correct. Tipping it toward you or sideways by grasping the rim are both bad table manners. A bowl may be tipped sideways.

A Social Bore

Dear Mrs. Post: What is meant by a social bore?

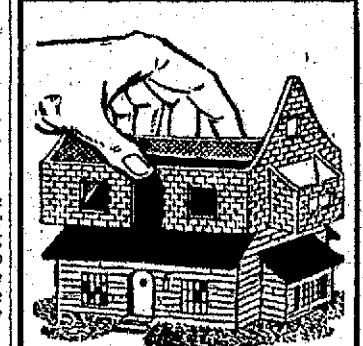

Answer: Someone who insists upon talking about something longer than most people are interested in hearing about it.

Do you hesitate about taking some foods in your fingers? Mrs. Post gives a list of the "finger" foods in leaflet, E-15, "Table Rules of Importance." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Outsized Radish

Cusino, N.S.W., Australia (UPI)—A radish which sounds as if it should have come from the celebrated Mowbray Swamp, Tasmania—where they grow turnips up to four feet long and still edible—has been reported here. It weighed 44 pounds, and was one of 15, the others nearly as big. J. Goldsmith produced these monsters in his back-yard garden.
